KENTUCKY TROOPS SENT TO CHECK RIOT

Henry Cabot Lodge, Veteran U. S. Senator, Dead

Danville Scene Of Fierce Race Rioting

DANVILLE, KY., November 10.—(By the United Press.)—State troops were rushed to Danville today to quell race riots resulting from the murder of Edward Winkle, 21.

Six hundred armed whites marched on 250 negroes who took refuge in an abandoned quarry.

Participants in the rioting were all employees of the construction company building the Dix river dam.

Whites were attacking negroes, killed and maimed. News of the murder spread rapidly through the white section of the construction camp and before police could interfere, the camp was wrecked.

The negroes fled to an abandoned quarry and fought off the armed whites with sticks and stones.

One negro was wounded, and 19 beaten before the whites gained the quarry. Two blacks were brought to the jail here and are under heavy guard.

The entrance to the quarry is guarded by 20 deputies, and the negroes are reported to be under control.

The call for troops was sent out by officials of the construction company. Word was returned from Frankfort that Adjutant General James A. Kehoe was rushing three contingents of National Guards.

Columbus Householders In Rush for Heating Appliances

COLUMBUS, O., November 10.—(By the United Press.)—Stores selling oil burners and electrical heating appliances, were swamped with customers today as the Columbus Gas Company prepared to shut off the city's gas supply at midnight.

The only hope of relief was seen in a suit to be heard in the local courts today through which the city seeks to enjoin the shut-off.

At last week's election the voters authorized a forty-cent gas rate and the gas company claims it cannot afford to supply the city at that figure.

Approximately 22,000 homes will be without fuel for cooking if the gas goes off.

Coolidge Relieved of Strain of Carrying Out Harding's Pledges; Use Own Program

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1924 by Times Publishing Company.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—There is no thrill doubtless like the thrill of a vote of confidence given by the American people to a servant in public office—and as Calvin Coolidge sat at his desk today and received after a call his eyes seemed to show plainly the light of an eagerness to fulfill what so many voters expect of him.

The president was full of smiles, happiness was written in every sentence he uttered. He appeared somehow to be relieved of a great strain. Perhaps he has been conscious of that right. But it was not a combination of shyness and caution and great modesty. Placed in office by the hand of providence, he felt a responsibility to follow in the footsteps of another. Appointments were to a large extent guided by commitments made by his predecessor. Inauguration may be four months away, but to all intents and purposes the act and term of President Coolidge began this week. The ceremony on March 4th will be of only technical and historical importance. For President Coolidge is turning toward his tasks with a feeling that henceforth he must fulfill the pledges of his campaign.

To Continue Economy
Greatest among these pledges was a promise to practice economy. Foremost among the impressions of Calvin Coolidge among the voters generally was one that emphasized his thrift. His lifetime habit of careful expenditure. It has remained with him in the White House. It was the basis of his many votes in the last session of congress. If it was not justified. There probably will be an increase in pay to the postal clerks. It seems to be admitted on all sides that the clerks are underpaid but the question that has to be solved is from what source the increased revenue is to be obtained—from increased rates on parcel-post or second class matter or a revision of the postal rates.

The postal service is not as efficient as the American people would like to have it. Excessive economies in the last few years especially in the railway mail service, have interfered with efficiency. It sometimes takes two days to get mail from New York to Washington, a five hour run on the railroads. Airplane mail is assuming importance in transcontinental service but the demand is growing for better mail service on the short distance runs.

To Attempt Tax Revision
Government finances are in splendid shape. The next tax law has not brought in deficit but a surplus. Will congress give the American people the benefit of lower taxes, or will it insist upon spending the surplus? President Coolidge's leadership on this issue will be revealed in the message now being prepared for the December session of congress. Mr. Coolidge promised earlier in the year to continue his efforts for tax revision. It is unlikely that he will forget. There are some glaring inequities in the present law. The present did not feel just in retaining the whole law to secure a revision of any portion of it. A campaign was ahead and he couldn't imperil tax relief by a veto. But now the situation has changed. Even with a congress in which the La Follette radicals hold the balance of power for they remain in office until next March the president can if he chooses prevent a measure for amendment of the present act and some of the inequities of Republican may not be as anxious to oppose Mr. Coolidge as they were several months ago. The election returns may have had a salutary effect on those who would obstruct merely for individual or partisan advantage.

With reference to the present tax law, there will be some interesting data from the Treasury as to the productivity of the new rates. It would not be surprising to find that the real reason for the surplus is not the lower rates at all, but the enforcement of the law. Several new administrative provisions were inserted by the treasury in the last year and avoidance. Many loopholes have been plugged. Even had the old 1922 rates remained on the statute books there would have been increased revenues due to improved administration. There is also the improvement in business conditions to be taken into account. Unquestionably there will be an

Wordy War In Britain Over Birth Control

(By Lloyd Allen)
LONDON, November 10.—Lord Dawson, of Penn, the King's physician, has precipitated a nation-wide wordy war between advocates and opponents of birth control.

Maude Rorden, noted preacher, was the only one of a large number of British clergy opposing control to answer Lord Dawson Sunday, but this was only because the physician's strategy in carrying the fight to the enemy's camp had caught the latter unawares.

Others announced they would take up the challenge flung by Lord Dawson on Friday.

Speaking before the national birth-rate commission of the National Council of Public Morals, with the bishop of Winchester presiding, the royal physician presented a spirited defense of birth control.

He defended sex love aside from the duty of procreation and declared marital abstinence to be harmful.

Birth control, he said, was inevitable, unless the world wished to return to its former condition of over-large families and high death rate.

Clergymen, the physician said, were forced into hypocrisy when they fell in love.

"They have the same passions and practice them with the same fervor as the best of us," Lord Dawson exclaimed. "The church makes them implicitly condemn sex love—which they themselves practice not only for procreation, but entirely apart therefrom."

A veteran of the old guard, adamant against the policies of the La Follette insurgents on the one hand and unable to accept some of the proposals of the Republican administration on the other, the Massachusetts patrician Rorden said that he found his title as Republican floor leader somewhat of an anomaly. Now that the powerful opinion of his personal influences has been removed from the problem, party chiefs face the task of deciding what new alignment can be effected to fill the gap and make for party solidarity.

Put Up To Coolidge
In the determination of this question, President Coolidge undoubtedly will have an opportunity to wield the dominant power of party leadership conferred on him by Tuesday's election. If he cares to give it, his influence will be a powerful factor in deciding whether the situation now and whether security is to be cast aside and some new leader lifted to a position of command.

This question assumes a still greater significance when it is considered that the new congress, which meets next year, will see a substantial increase in Republican senate strength, bringing into the situation new and untainted quantities. In view of the changes to take place as a result of the election just held, and the close balance in the present congress, any permanent reorganization on the Republican side may be delayed for some months and a temporary leader designated to act during the short winter session.

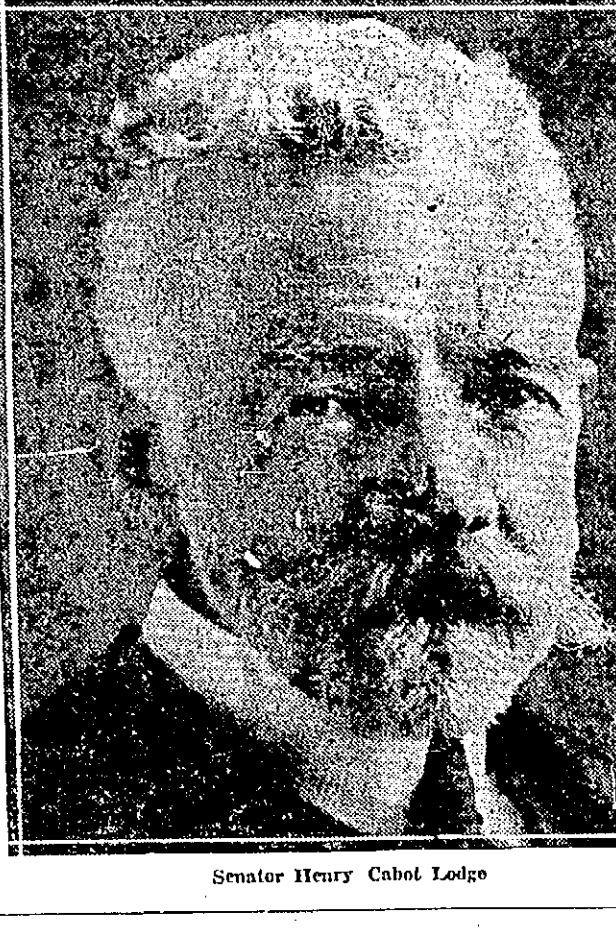

Should no sweeping readjustment of the senate situation be attempted it is probable that Senator Warren, of Wyoming, will become floor leader. But if there is to be a new deal all around, those to be considered probably will include Wadsworth, of New York, Moses of New Hampshire, Watson, of Indiana, and Reed, of Pennsylvania.

Senator Lodge, is the third prominent senator to die within recent weeks. As a result, the Republican party finds itself with a membership of only 50 in the present senate or one less than a majority unless Governor Cox, of Massachusetts, selects a successor to the venerable legislator before congress re-assembles December 1.

Although the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Curtis, of Rhode Island, was filled in Tuesday's election that resulting from the death of Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, will not be filled until December 10, with a special election will be held. As this is more than two weeks after the time set for the convening of congress, the senate will meet without a full membership. In the face of that situation with 50 Republican members, not all of whom are classed as strict organization men, the problem is expected to develop difficulties which will require expert handling if the Republicans are to continue in the session as the dominant party in that branch of congress.

Borah Would Succeed Him

PUBLIC CAREER ENDED BY DEATH

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge

Served 31 Consecutive Years In The Senate

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., November 10.—(By the United Press.)—Funeral services for Senator Henry Cabot Lodge will be held from Christ's Episcopal Church Wednesday afternoon, it was announced today by Charles E. Townsend, the senator's private secretary. Interment will be at Mount Auburn cemetery in the Lodge family plot.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., November 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, senator from Massachusetts, Republican leader of the senate, who served in the senate 31 years, is dead. The end came at the Charles Gate Hospital here shortly before midnight.

Struck down last Wednesday just as he was making a rapid convalescence from his recent operation within a few months, the 74-year-old senator was unconscious during most of the days intervening before his death.

For a brief period on Friday he rallied with remarkable vitality and regained consciousness for a few brief periods in which he spoke to his physicians and the relatives at his bedside. He again relapsed into a coma, however, and his strength gradually ebbed away.

His daughter-in-law, Mrs. John B. Helena Lodge, and two grandsons, John S. and Henry Cabot Lodge II, and his physician, Dr. John C. Cunningham, were at the bedside when he died. Word of his death brought tribute from many places. Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, who shared with him the representation of Massachusetts in the upper house, said:

"Massachusetts has lost a statesman and a scholar who added more to her prestige than any other man in half a century."

Funeral services will be held at the home of Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow, a life long friend of the senator and a fellow member of the class of 1871 at Harvard. Burial will be in the Lodge family lot at the Mount Auburn cemetery, Cambridge.

Henry Cabot Lodge had served continuously in the United States Senate since 1893, as Republican leader since August, 1918, and was one of the most prominent members of his party for a generation.

Statesman, publicist, author, lawyer, historian, Mr. Lodge's manifold activities made a deep impression on contemporaneous events. Chief prominence, perhaps, came to him as leader of the Senate's opposition to the League of Nations and the treaty of Versailles during 1918, 1919 and 1920. As chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Republican floor leader, he had the opportunity to follow President Wilson in the fight against ratification.

He was the author of the "Lodge reservations" and was credited with a large part in molding the policy of the Harding administration against American entrance into the League.

He was born in leisure, but always worked. A principle laid down by him in early life was: "The first thing for a man of leisure to do, if he really wishes to count in his day and generation, is to avoid being an amateur." Although he apparently had no intention of practicing law, he worked hard and won a degree in that branch at Harvard and then worked on a farm at Andover, Mass., and in the lumber business in the Adirondacks. In the three years that followed he was lecturer at Harvard on American history, and at the age of 30 was recognized as an authoritative historian. Among the scores of books he wrote were biographies of Washington, Hamilton and Webster.

It was his theory that every man should "give of his leisure, more or less, to politics; for it is simply good citizenship for him to do so," and along with the historical researches he became interested in contemporary politics. His (Continued On Page Three)

Barcelona Anarchists Are Shot To Death

BARCELONA, November 10.—(By the United Press.)—With the execution of two anarchists this morning, the police here believe they have definitely crushed a revolutionary plot against Spain's military dictator.

Seven other anarchists are held, awaiting sentence and round-up of suspects continues.

Barcelona has resumed its normal calm and the police say there is no further cause for alarm.

One policeman was killed and one wounded in the fighting in which the anarchists were taken.

The affair at Barcelona, where an anarchist band was rounded up and found heavily armed with bombs, occurred practically simultaneously with other revolutionary movement, all apparently directed against the Spanish government and king.

Test Case On Cider Opens In Baltimore

BAaltimore, MD., November 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Before the case of Representative John Philip Hill, the Baltimore member of congress who is charged with violations of the Volstead act in the manufacture and possession of wine and cider was called in the United States court here today Mr. Hill said that he would not deny any of the material facts in the case.

"What we are after," he said, "is an interpretation of Section 20 of the Volstead Act as it applies to wine and cider. It is possible the court may rule that the less than one-half of one per cent regulation in the Volstead act applies to home made wine and cider. In that case I would expect to be found guilty and the case would be carried on appeal to a higher court. If the court agrees with officials of the prohibition unit, as evidenced in letters in my possession from them, that the one-half of one per cent provision does not apply, then we will expect the jury to determine what is intoxicating in fact."

The indictments against Mr. Hill, in six counts and are the result of the manufacture by him at his home here of fruit wine and cider which he said contained 2.75 per cent alcohol, the purpose being an effort to have defined legally the phrase "intoxicating liquor" as it occurs in the Volstead Act.

During his trial he will attempt to prove, it is understood, that it was not the intention of congress to include cider and non-intoxicating fruit juices as both are ordinarily made and used without the presence of intoxicating liquors; that neither congress nor any court of competent jurisdiction has undertaken to fix a limit of alcoholic strength which would render non-intoxicating cider made exclusively in the home, intoxicating in fact; that home made cider and wine may contain more than one-half of one per cent alcohol without being intoxicating and that home made cider and wine, made exclusively for home use are legal, regardless of alcoholic content.

No Change In Condition Of Mrs. Harding

MARION, O., November 10.—(By the United Press.)—There is no change in the condition of Mrs. Warren G. Harding today, it was said at White Oaks, near this morning.

The late President Harding's widow went through a minor operation Saturday night and suffered, no appreciable shock, but her condition is still "such as to cause considerable anxiety."

"Mrs. Harding's heart action is still only fair," her physician, Dr. Carl W. Seeger, said, pending the issuance of his daily bulletin.

Donkey Commands National Guard

TOLLEDO, November 10.—(By the United Press.)—Governor Denney, in a letter read before 250 officers at the annual convention of the Ohio National Guard Association here yesterday, commended the constructive policy of the organization and promised to keep it free from politics.

Pavorable reports were received on the work done by the guards at Xenia, where Klan riots broke out a week ago.

Death of Lodge Leaves The Leadership of Senate and Important Posts Open

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—The death of Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the senate, just as his party was preparing to harvest the fruits of a sweeping victory at the polls, surrounds the question of leadership in the senate with new and unusual considerations.

A veteran of the old guard, adamant against the policies of the La Follette insurgents on the one hand and unable to accept some of the proposals of the Republican administration on the other, the Massachusetts patrician Rorden said that he found his title as Republican floor leader somewhat of an anomaly. Now that the powerful opinion of his personal influences has been removed from the problem, party chiefs face the task of deciding what new alignment can be effected to fill the gap and make for party solidarity.

Four Perish As Gas Tank Explodes

SISTERVILLE, W. VA., November 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fourteen-year-old Harold Scott, whose mother, father and sister met death yesterday when four thousand gallons of gasoline exploded on the Riggs farm near here, died early today.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Scott, and the daughter Pauline, aged 11, died a few hours after they were caught under a shower of flaming gasoline.

Scott was superintendent of the Pure Oil plant on the Riggs farm. Shortly after he had inspected a number of tanks, a small container with a capacity of 200 gallons, exploded, breaking the connections to the larger tank. Attracted by the blast, all four members of the Scott family were nearby when the big tank blew up.

The damage was estimated at $250,000.

To Hear Bugle 'Roll Call' On Radio

NEW YORK, November 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—When Walter Krebs tunes in on his radio tomorrow he will hear the "Roll Call," his bugle composition in commemoration of the war dead.

Krebs, who was too young to enlist during the war, conceived the idea of a commemorative bugle call four years ago. Most of last year he devoted to an effort to convince every governor in the country that air should be played on Armistice Day and as a result many states have placed the "Roll Call" on their memorial programs. It will lead the ceremonies as a signal to announce the minute of silence to be observed by all at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The call will be sounded by battleships at sea.

Plaza Business Block Destroyed

NEW YORK, November 10.—(By the United Press.)—Fire starting in the Ellerman store here late Sunday swept an entire business block. The loss was estimated today at $50,000.

The flames destroyed the Favorite Theatre, the Peacock Restaurant, and a number of offices.

Wu Says He'll Stage Come-Back

CHICAGO, CHINA, November 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Wu Peifu, dismissed commander-in-chief of the Peking military forces, who is on board a transport here, announced today his intention of going to the south to reassemble his forces and to return later at the head of a punitive expedition.

COST U. S. TEN CENTS A MEAL TO FEED ITS SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—It cost the United States slightly more than ten cents a meal for its soldiers during the fiscal year ended last June 30. The daily cost of feeding the soldiers, it is disclosed in the annual report of the quartermaster general made public today, amounted to 31.65 cents for each man.

BANDITS ROB OIL STATION

CLEVELAND, O., November 10.—(By the United Press.)—Two bandits held up a Sinclair oil station here today, escaping with $250 in cash.

Resists Robber; Shot To Death

CLEVELAND, O., November 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Harry R. Marston, 53, was shot and killed early today while attempting to resist a robber in a house in the south end district.

Three women and seven men in the house at the time, held for questioning by police, said that the robber ordered the house and ordered every one to throw their valuables on the table.

Marston took a step forward, they say, and the robber fired, the bullet striking Marston just above the eye.

The robber scooped up about $50 and fled.

Oil Saved From Forest Fire

IRVINE, KY., November 10.—(By the United Press.)—After a 72-hour fight three hundred volunteers have succeeded in checking the forest fire which for a time threatened to explode more than 10,000,000 gallons of oil stored in tanks near here.

Forest fires in five other sections of Kentucky were reported today to be dying out.

Raise Tong Tribute Fund in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, O., November 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—The raising by Cleveland Chinese, members of the On Leng Tong, of a $50,000 fund of "blood money" as tribute to avert the re-opening in Cleveland's Chinatown of the Tong war that has spread over the country was revealed by police today.

According to information given Cleveland police, Deputy Inspector Timothy Costello says, the $50,000 tribute fund is the result of contributions from each of a large number of Chinese merchants.

It is hoped by local Chinese, according to the information received by police, that the payment of the tribute that the Tong war, believed to have originated in Cleveland last spring, and since then has cost the lives of fifteen Chinese all over the country, will be ended.

Newspaper Advertising By Churches Is Advocated

WASHINGTON, N. C., November 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Newspaper advertising by churches throughout the country is urged as part of the campaign to "call people to the church" in a statement issued today by the commission of Evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches.

Co-operation by business offices of newspapers to make the advertising of churches has been asked by the church organization.

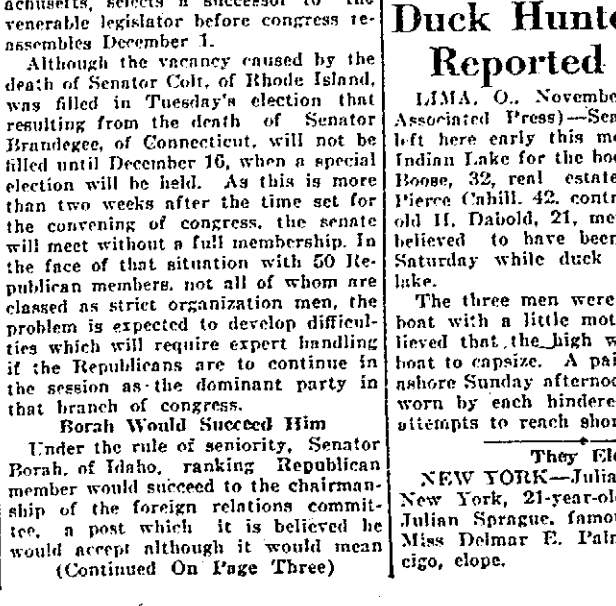

The advertising will be placed by local churches or church organizations and will be in addition to church items printed in news columns.

Dr. Charles Goodell, secretary of the commission, explained that since news columns cannot as a rule "carry the straight gospel message" its place is in the advertising columns. In this way he said, the church can reach people who never enter the church.

"The church has never realized the wonderful opportunity of the advertising columns. Too often it has been satisfied with using them for mere announcements of service and though this is worthwhile, the church must realize its greater task of using advertising for the story of salvation."

Chiropractic Is Appreciated

QUESTION — "I want to tell you how appreciative I am that Chiropractic Adjustments broke up my Phosphorus fever for my little girl in nine days. We think your Adjustments are wonderful in all kinds of sickness."

ANSWER—Now that you have realized the benefits of Chiropractic, you are in a position to tell others just what we are able to do. Pass the good word along to your friends and neighbors. Chiropractic is too good and valuable a thing to keep to one's self, and in telling others what it has done for your loved ones, you are indeed practicing the Golden Rule—"Do unto others as you would that others should do unto you." Be a home missionary in this glorious work. So many people think that Chiropractic is all very well for chronic cases after every other method has failed, but do not realize that results are obtained just as surely and more quickly in acute cases. Nothing in the whole wide world is as simple as Chiropractic when it has been explained. Tell your neighbors about it that they too may understand.

Mrs. Fred Haffner Suffered Fractured Skull; Driver of Car Surrenders to Sheriff

One killed and several injured was the toll of Sunday automobile accident in Summit county. Mrs. Ida Leichter-Haffner, wife of Fred Haffner, Sr., 2221 Eighth street, meeting a tragic death when struck by an automobile at Wheelersburg early yesterday evening. A fracture at the base of the skull resulted in death at Hempstead hospital about 9:50 o'clock last night. The accident occurred about 5 o'clock. The husband and a brother-in-law, John Haffner of Wheelersburg, were eye witnesses to the fatal accident.

The machine which struck Mrs. Haffner is owned and was driven by Ralph Mansfield, cutter at the Excelsior shoe factory and a resident of Rosemount Road. He failed to stop at the scene of the accident but after traveling some distance towards the city reported the accident to Sheriff Harry Dunham. He went direct to the office of the sheriff and told that he thought he had struck a woman at Wheelersburg and that if an accident was reported from there it was his machine that had figured in it. Mansfield was not held but reported to Sheriff Dunham again this morning.

Enroute Home According to the husband of the accident victim they were enroute home from a Sunday visit with his brother, John Haffner and family at Wheelersburg and were on the south side of Gallia street or Main street in Wheelersburg talking to his brother when Mrs. Haffner started across the street. Mr. Haffner claims his wife waited until one machine headed west, had passed and then started across, believing that she had plenty of time to cross the paved street ahead of a machine that appeared to be at least 100 yards up its road. A White Star bus was in the terminal in front of the Baptist church and Mrs. Haffner was crossing the street to board this machine when struck. The husband claims his wife had reached a point near the front left fender of the bus when the touring car struck her and hurled her about 30 feet ahead of the bus and to the right of the road.

Removed to Hospital Mr. Haffner and brother rushed to the injured woman's side and within a few seconds were joined by several bystanders who helped carry the unconscious form into the nearby home of Mrs. Alice Andrews. Drs. K. D. Reichelderfer of Wheelersburg and Martin Taylor of Sciotoville, who were called and Dr. T. G. McCormick of Portsmouth, who was passing through the village, attended Mrs. Haffner and ordered her removed to a hospital. Bleeding at the mouth and ears indicated a skull fracture. Lynn's ambulance removed Mrs. Haffner to the Hempstead hospital where Dr. J. W. Elch attended her and found a serious fracture at the base of the skull. Loved ones who hurried to the hospital were told at once that there was but little hope for recovery. Pathetic scenes were enacted as relatives gathered at the hospital seeking a ray of hope that the injury would not prove fatal.

A daughter, Miss Alma Haffner, suffered fainting spells and demanded hospital attention. Mrs. Haffner remained unconscious until the end. While surrounded by her sorrowful husband and children and other relatives her soul departed about 9:50 o'clock.

Born in Portsmouth Mrs. Ida Leichter Haffner was born in Portsmouth, July 17, 1865, and at the time of death was 59 years, 3 months and 23 days old. She had spent all of her life except a few years, in Portsmouth. Mr. and Mrs. Haffner were united in marriage October 10, 1888, and to this union were born one daughter and two sons. She leaves to mourn her departure a grief-stricken husband, daughter, Miss Alma Haffner and two sons, Fred Haffner, Jr. of Long Run, and Herbert Haffner of this city. She also leaves four grand children, two brothers and two sisters and a sister-in-law, Charles W. Leichter of Sciotoville, Albert F. Leichter of this city, Miss Lucy Leichter, 1702 Twelfth street, Mrs. Anna Dentine of Wellston and Mrs. Belle Leichter of 1702 Twelfth street, besides a host of other relatives and countless friends who are left to mourn her untimely death.

Mrs. Haffner was a home loving woman and her happiest moments were when she was at home surrounded by her children and grandchildren. She was a member of the First Christian church for some years and was always active in the affairs of her church and Sunday School. Mrs. Haffner was an earnest and cheerful worker in the Berean Class of the Bible School. Coroner Called Coroner Virgil Fowler was notified of the accident and death and ordered the body removed to the Daehler mortuary where he made an examination last night. His verdict is being withheld until Sheriff Dunham completes an investigation of the accident. Mr. Mansfield in reporting the accident to Sheriff Dunham stated that he was in a line of machines returning from the football game and was keeping the usual distance behind a car just ahead. He says another machine was coming behind him and that he could not have been speeding while in the line of cars. He says he was not certain at first that he had struck anyone, having failed to notice a bus or person on the road ahead. He says he felt the car jerk a little like it ran over a bump but did not see the woman tossed to one side. The right headlight on his machine is bent back and indicates the woman was struck by this part of the machine. The husband is of the opinion that his wife's head struck the radiator of the machine.

Successful at sixty

You know him. Perhaps wondered how he did it. He doesn't seem to have more than the average share of brains, education, or luck. Yet here he is on his 60th birthday, financially independent, in the comfortable security of his own home.

The secret? He simply acted upon the fact that every dollar earned contains a certain percentage of financial energy that makes getting ahead a simple, definite, practical achievement.

To give you that opportunity we organized the TEN PER-CENT CLUB, and we urge you to join it today.

his surrender of the chairmanship of the education and labor committee and abandonment of any idea of assuming the chairmanship of the judiciary committee for which he is also directly in line through the death of Senator Bronson, under the practice which restricts a senator to one major committee chairmanship.

The procedure for selecting a party floor leader is not so clearly defined, the seniority rule not always being followed. It should be the selection in this case would fall upon Senator Warren, of Wyoming, but if promotion policy be resorted to, the choice would fall upon Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the Republican whip and assistant floor leader.

Some friends of Senator Warren are of the opinion that he would not accept the leadership and predict that Senator Curtis has been active for some time in the actual leadership of the Republican forces in the senate as Senator Watson, of Indiana, Reed, of Pennsylvania, and others, due to Senator Lodge having voluntarily relinquished a measure of actual control over them and devoted his attention for the past year or two more exclusively to the foreign relations and naval affairs committee.

But if the vital fire was diminishing in the field of state and national politics, it showed no diminution in the realm of foreign affairs. This was notably true in what proved to be his last, standing utterance when he brought his powers into full play in the Japanese exclusion debate last spring during consideration of the immigration.

It was he who on the open floor of the senate (termed the "grave consequences" phrase in the note of Ambassador Hanthorn) bearing upon the exclusion question as a "colled threat" in a speech which was regarded in the light of subsequent events as leading directly to the incorporation in the immigration bill of a strict exclusion provision.

In so constraining the letter of the ambassador, Senator Lodge came counter to the interpretation placed upon it by Secretary Hughes and in supporting an immediate strict Oriental exclusion policy by legislation, he found himself in opposition to the president.

It was not the first time, however, that he found himself on the open floor of the senate in state, national or international politics. In Massachusetts state politics Mr. Coolidge was frequently aligned with the Murray Crane wing of the party as opposed to that dominated by Senator Lodge and in national politics they found themselves notably at loggerheads on the advisability of granting a soldier bonus. In the latter case, Senator Lodge voted for the bonus, both on initial passage and on re-passage over the president's veto, although his course was understood to have been dictated in some extent by pledges he had made to support the bonus during his campaign for reelection more than a year before Mr. Coolidge came to the presidency.

Although not so markedly opposing the president's policy with reference to American adherence to the permanent court of international justice, Senator Lodge also was generally regarded as being in disagreement on that question. It never came to a direct issue, however.

Notwithstanding these divergencies, Senator Lodge proclaimed his support of President Coolidge in general politics and attended the Republican convention at Cleveland last June, participating in demonstrations for the president.

Many Accidents Were Reported Over Sunday

A veritable jinx camped on the trail of Portsmouth motorists Sunday, numerous accidents being reported in the county, most of them falling place on the Gallia Pike between Portsmouth and Ironton. Speed it is said caused several of them and reckless driving is also blamed for one or two of the smashups.

Officials declared today that what caused most of the accidents on the Gallia Pike.

Machine Turns Over; Two Hurt
Two persons were injured and a Ford Meadows' machine was badly damaged Sunday afternoon when it figured in an accident on the Gallia Pike just east of where the Lindsay Hollow road joins the Gallia Pike.

Those injured were Mrs. Nannie Boggs, of 8051 Walnut street, East Portsmouth, and her 14-year-old daughter, Ivy Boggs. Mrs. Boggs was bruised about the head and shoulders and her daughter about the hips. They were attended by Dr. Carl Braunlin.

Mr. Meadows, his wife and three children, escaped injury despite the fact that they were thrown out of the machine which hit a telephone pole and turned over.

Mr. Meadows says another machine crowded him off the road. He resides at 2202 1/2 Seventh street.

Two Shave Heads Near Viaduct
Two touring cars figured in an accident yesterday afternoon at the intersection of Gallia and Young streets. The drivers were uninjured. A Durant was being driven south on Young street by William Drouz, of 2222 Fourth street, Ironton, when it collided with the Ford which was being driven west on Gallia street by O. R. Riggs, of 3710 Station avenue, New Boston. Traffic Officer Charles Crowe investigated the accident.

Auto Collide Near Wheelersburg
A machine driven by Wilbur M. Hall of 1215 Fourteenth street was damaged Sunday when it ran into a car near Wheelersburg. Hall claims that the car in front of him stopped suddenly he did not have a chance to prevent the collision. Hall is a steelworker.

Fire Destroys Ford Sedan
A Ford sedan owned by Myrtle Bailey of Superior was destroyed by fire at Newcastles Ridge at 4 p. m. last Friday. The nearby woods were ignited by the burning automobile and Mr. Samuel Heading, forest fire warden at Newcastle was notified and rushed men to the scene in time to prevent a serious fire as a high wind was blowing at the time. The fire was controlled when it had burned about 4 acres.

Two Occur On West Side
County officers were called to the West Side Sunday to investigate two automobile collisions, the first which occurred on the Buena Vista pike, at the Raven Rock farm about three o'clock and the other which occurred nearly a mile below Friendship about ten-thirty o'clock last night.

In the accident, which occurred at the Raven Rock farm when a Ford machine driven by Cecil Gambill, 27, of Seventh street, collided with a car driven by Edward Walton, colored, of 2100 Thirteenth street, Chester Howard, of 2100 Seventh street, was severely cut about his right knee and the official investigation resulted in the arrest of Gambill for driving while intoxicated, and Edward Walton, 18, who occupied the machine with him and Howard, for intoxication. Both cars were considerably damaged in the crash.

Driver Arrested After Accident
William Phillips, Jr., was taken into custody by the officers for driving his car while intoxicated following a crash between his Lexington car and Raymond Zuhars' Ford coupe which occurred below Friendship. Miss Helen Taylor, daughter of J. F. Taylor, owner of the University garage, who occupied the Ford coupe with Zuhars, was cut about the head and face by flying glass from the broken windshield. The impact of the collision when the cars met head-on damaged both machines considerably.

Liquorville Has Its Little Thrill
Walker Montgomery, 28, made a poor showing piloting his Ford automobile near Liquorville Sunday afternoon with the result that he figured in a collision with another car. The sheriff's office was notified and Deputy Robert Reno responded and arrested Montgomery and brought him to the county jail where he is held to answer to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

AUTO HITS POLE; FOUR ARE INJURED
Four lives were endangered about 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning when an Overland touring car owned and driven by Oscar Reilly of Cooper's ville, Pike county, was wrecked on cemetery hill curve just this side of Wheelersburg. With Reilly were his brother Warren R. and his uncle Layman Elly and son Leo 17 years old, of Ashland. According to Oscar Reilly he is a stranger in these parts and did not know of the sharp curve. There was a heavy fog early yesterday and his lights were not bright, preventing him from seeing the curve in time to slow down. When he made an attempt to round the sharp curve the machine left the road and crashed into a telephone pole. Oscar Reilly sustained two serious scalp wounds, a severe shaking up and possible internal injuries. Leo Reilly sustained a cut on his forehead that required two stitches to close. Warren Elly suffered a badly bruised right leg and hip. Layman Reilly escaped injury.

The four were brought back to New Boston to the home of Mrs. Wallace McCormick, Gallia street where a physician attended the injured. Mrs. McCormick is a sister of Warren and Oscar Reilly who have been working for the C. & O. at Silver Grove near Cincinnati. They were going to Ashland to get jobs with the C. & O. there.

The machine was wrecked almost beyond repair. It was towed to a garage Monday afternoon for repairs.

MACHINE KNOCKED INTO A DITCH
A sedan owned and driven by Grant Metcalf, colored, of 1234 Twelfth street was badly damaged Sunday when it left the road on C. & O. Scato Trail near George V. O. Metcalf says another machine hit his car and failed to stop. The damaged machine was taken to the Universal garage for repairs. The left front wheel and fender were smashed.

Arrest Made After Crash
An automobile wreck on Swickert Hill on the Lindsay Hollow road north-east of Sciotoville about midnight Sunday resulted in the arrest of Henry Loezler and W. J. Simmering, who were lodged in the New Boston jail by Officers Walker and Daines of New Boston and State driver officer George Dayan. Loezler is charged with driving a car while intoxicated and possessing moonshine while Simmering is charged with possessing and intoxication. Loezler was taken to the county jail.

Evans Car Damaged

A Ford sedan driven by Roy Evans, real estate dealer, of 1020 Eighth street, was slightly damaged Sunday afternoon in an accident on Gallia pike between Sciotoville and Wheelersburg. A driver of a Ford touring car ahead of Evans stopped suddenly and Evans thinking the man was going to park at the side of the road started to pass on his left. Instead the man made a turn to the left and the machines collided. Fortunately both were going slow and but little damage resulted.

Here Is Another
A truck for the J. M. Penzell grocery, 615 Lincoln street, and a motorcycle and side car driven by a man named Jordan, figured in a collision at Seventh and Campbell avenue about 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. John Penzell, driver of the truck was going west on Seventh street and Jordan was driving on Campbell street. According to Penzell he was almost across the intersection when the motorcycle caught the left rear part of his truck. The motorcycle was badly damaged and Jordan sustained slight cuts and bruises on the hand.

Lodge
public career began with election to the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1870.

He was unsuccessful in his first attempt to go to Washington as a national legislator. In 1882 he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman and the contest was so close that 130 ballots were required to decide the nomination of his opponent by the congressional convention. In 1886, however, he was nominated and elected to the national house of representatives, where he served six years before his election to the senate.

His oratory was distinguished by his practice of sketching in an historical background and his facility in quoting apt historical incidents. In an interview in 1922 summing up his career he said: "I have nothing to say about my opposition, for I have never made personal or abusive attacks on anyone opposed to me. It has always seemed to me that a man in public life stood more strongly if he stood on his own merits rather than on someone else's defects. I think I may say that I have done a great deal of difficult and responsible public work. On that public work and on that record I am content to stand."

Mr. Lodge from the outset of his public career was an enthusiastic Republican and an intense partisan. He was honored often by his party. An ambition to be chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, on which he served for many years, was realized when the Republicans regained control of the senate in 1919. He then also was chosen majority leader, having served the republican minority previously as floor leader.

Twice Senator Lodge was temporary and permanent chairman of Republican national conventions at Philadelphia in 1900 and at Chicago in 1904. Former President Roosevelt, a lifelong friend, urged Mr. Lodge's nomination for the Republican presidential candidacy in 1916 when Mr. Roosevelt declined the Progressive party's nomination. As chairman of the 1920 Republican convention, Senator Lodge was prominent in conferences which led to President Harding's nomination.

In addition to conflicts with partisan opponents, Senator Lodge had several inter-party contests.

Had Many Contests
He was severely criticized by independent inclined members of his own party in 1941, when, on his return from the Republican National Convention at which he had joined with other members of the Massachusetts delegation in strenuously opposing the nomination of James G. Blaine for president, he announced that he would give his support to Blaine in his campaign for election.

As a member of the committee on resolutions at the Republican National Convention in 1896, he wrote the words which committed the party to internationalism. Immediately after this convention, Senator William E. Chandler of New Hampshire announced that he would give $100 to whoever could prove that he was the author of this plank. It was not until 1902 that the proof was disclosed, when Senator Foraker, who had been chairman of the resolutions committee, found the original draft of the platform with the interlined amendment to the bimetallic plank consisting of the words "which we pledge ourselves to promote," written on a telegraph blank in Mr. Lodge's handwriting. Senator Chandler thereupon arranged a dinner at which he presented Mr. Lodge with a silver cigar box valued at $100.

Mr. Lodge's seat in the senate was not seriously threatened until the campaign of 1910, when rival candidates presented themselves for the Republican nomination and waged a bitter contest against him. In that campaign he was charged with having built up a powerful machine to control party affairs in Massachusetts. He secured the nomination, however, and was reelected by a margin of six votes in the Massachusetts legislature. He was reelected in 1916 for a term expiring in 1923.

Seeking re-election in 1922 he was faced with determined opposition within and without his party. In the primary campaign Joseph Walker, a former speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives and a former Progressive, was a candidate for the Republican nomination for senator. Mr. Walker attacked Senator Lodge as being reactionary and as not properly representing his party, but when the general election was counted it was found that the Senator was no easy winner.

To oppose him in the election the Democrats nominated William A. Gaston, Boston lawyer and banker, who made a vigorous campaign. Mr. Walker announced his support of Gaston and certain other Republicans came out for the Republican candidate, John A. Nicholls. The vote ran close throughout the state and although Senator Lodge's re-election was assured by the returns, it was not until after a recount of the ballots, demanded by both parties, that his plurality over Gaston was fixed at 7339.

Soon after leaving college Mr. Lodge formed a close friendship with Theodore Roosevelt. This was fostered by their joint interest in history and politics, and during Mr. Roosevelt's administration as President, Senator Lodge was invariably a factor in conferences at the White House.

Soon after leaving college Mr. Lodge formed a close friendship with Theodore Roosevelt. This was fostered by their joint interest in history and politics, and during Mr. Roosevelt's administration as President, Senator Lodge was invariably a factor in conferences at the White House.

Mr. Lodge travelled often abroad and had the friendship of many prominent European statesmen. He spoke French fluently and was a student of its art and literature, his library being filled with books of Napoleon and French volumes. He also had one of the largest collections of Roosevelt letters.

Senator Lodge was engaged in trade with China and owned many ships. The Senator once remarked: "I never went to sea but I knew every part of a ship." His great grandfather, George Cabot, was a senator from Massachusetts from 1791 to 1796 and was appointed by President Adams as secretary of the navy when that department was created, and as chief of the foreign relations committee in 1800.

Senator Lodge made his home in a picturesque mansion on the cliffs of Nahant jutting out into Massachusetts Bay. There as a boy he became an expert swimmer and master of a sail boat with a retired fisherman as instructor and companion. During his services in Congress he spent his summer vacations usually at his Nahant home and, as he was an ardent horseman, was often seen cantering along the beaches and through the villages. In his later years he found horseback riding too strenuous and got most of his exercise in walking, although he continued to enjoy an occasional swim in the ocean. He was passionately fond of the sea, which he once said "conveys most nearly the idea of infinity space."

For many years Senator Lodge served as moderator at the Nahant town meetings and in August, 1913, he made a special trip from Washington to preside at a special town meeting called to consider the question of building a new schoolhouse. A fellow townsman wrote: "His attitude in town meetings is liked by the townspeople. His opinions are not always approved, but he is interested in all details, however small, and is considerate of other's opinions."

Objections Are Commencing

In September, 1922, the Nahant townspeople, irrespective of party tendency, tendered him a reception and presented him with a silver plate inscribed as "a token of affection and esteem."

Mr. Lodge's wife, who was Anna Cabot of Mills, daughter of Rear Admiral Charles H. Davis of the United States navy, died in 1916. He had two sons, George Cabot Lodge, who died soon after his graduation from Harvard and John E. Lodge, a Boston lawyer; and one daughter, Mrs. Augustus P. Gardner, widow of the late Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts.

Death of
his surrender of the chairmanship of the education and labor committee and abandonment of any idea of assuming the chairmanship of the judiciary committee for which he is also directly in line through the death of Senator Bronson, under the practice which restricts a senator to one major committee chairmanship.

The procedure for selecting a party floor leader is not so clearly defined, the seniority rule not always being followed. It should be the selection in this case would fall upon Senator Warren, of Wyoming, but if promotion policy be resorted to, the choice would fall upon Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the Republican whip and assistant floor leader.

Some friends of Senator Warren are of the opinion that he would not accept the leadership and predict that Senator Curtis has been active for some time in the actual leadership of the Republican forces in the senate as Senator Watson, of Indiana, Reed, of Pennsylvania, and others, due to Senator Lodge having voluntarily relinquished a measure of actual control over them and devoted his attention for the past year or two more exclusively to the foreign relations and naval affairs committee.

But if the vital fire was diminishing in the field of state and national politics, it showed no diminution in the realm of foreign affairs. This was notably true in what proved to be his last, standing utterance when he brought his powers into full play in the Japanese exclusion debate last spring during consideration of the immigration.

It was he who on the open floor of the senate (termed the "grave consequences" phrase in the note of Ambassador Hanthorn) bearing upon the exclusion question as a "colled threat" in a speech which was regarded in the light of subsequent events as leading directly to the incorporation in the immigration bill of a strict exclusion provision.

In so constraining the letter of the ambassador, Senator Lodge came counter to the interpretation placed upon it by Secretary Hughes and in supporting an immediate strict Oriental exclusion policy by legislation, he found himself in opposition to the president.

It was not the first time, however, that he found himself on the open floor of the senate in state, national or international politics. In Massachusetts state politics Mr. Coolidge was frequently aligned with the Murray Crane wing of the party as opposed to that dominated by Senator Lodge and in national politics they found themselves notably at loggerheads on the advisability of granting a soldier bonus. In the latter case, Senator Lodge voted for the bonus, both on initial passage and on re-passage over the president's veto, although his course was understood to have been dictated in some extent by pledges he had made to support the bonus during his campaign for reelection more than a year before Mr. Coolidge came to the presidency.

Although not so markedly opposing the president's policy with reference to American adherence to the permanent court of international justice, Senator Lodge also was generally regarded as being in disagreement on that question. It never came to a direct issue, however.

The Affair at Flower Acres

© 1924 NMA Service Inc. WELLS

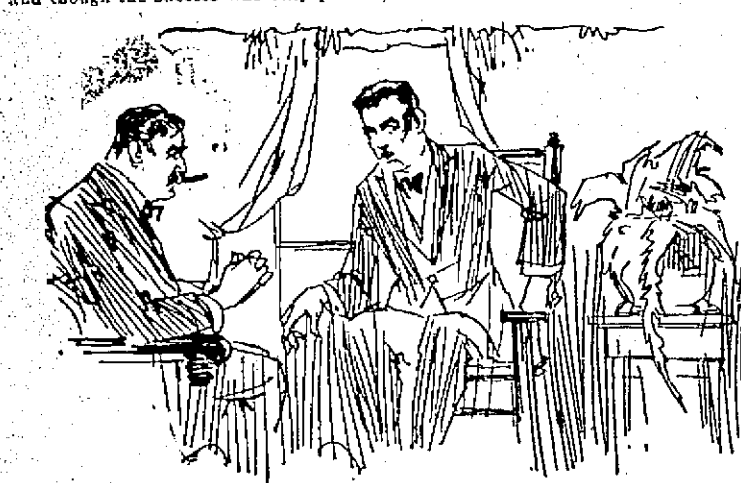

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Douglas Raynor is found shot through the heart in the early evening on the floor of the sun room of Flower Acres, his Long Island home. Standing over the dead man, pistol in hand, is Malcolm Finley, former sweetheart of Raynor's wife, Nancy. Eva Turner, Raynor's nurse, stands by the light switch. Then Nancy, her brother, Orville Kent; Ezra Goddard, friend of Finley; Miss Mattie Raynor's sister, and others, enter the room. Detective Dobbins is official investigator. An autopsy reveals that Raynor also was being systematically poisoned with arsenic. Lionele Raynor, son of Douglas Raynor, by first marriage, comes to claim his father's estate. Nurse Turner, confesses to poisoning Douglas Raynor out of revenge. "This was my revenge—to see him cringe and crawl," she says.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"This is a strange confession, Miss Turner," Dobbins said. "And remember, I did not kill him. His wife did that—and I, for one, do not blame her."

She looked compassionately at Nancy but in a cool, detached way. The others present on this occasion were Finley, Goddard and Orville Kent. Ezra Goddard was deeply interested. Malcolm Finley's countenance was impressive. Of them all, Orville Kent seemed the most disturbed. As always, when he was nervously excited, he sat twisting the corners of his handkerchief into spirals. There was deep affection between the brother and sister, and Nan, the elder, had always watched over her brother with devoted care. "Never a strong boy, Kent had grown to manhood only by reason of his own determined effort to improve his health. Exercise, diet, medical treatment, all had been called on to make him healthy, hearty constitution out of a frail one, and though the success was only partial,

"SO FAR AS I AM CONCERNED, I AM WILLING TO DROP THE INVESTIGATION."

Yet Kent, the man, was a decided improvement on Kent, the sickly child, and delicate boy.

It was self-evident that it was the disclosures of Eva Turner that so upset Orville. He listened with flushed face and unusually bright eyes; he leaned forward in his chair to drink in her words, and then as she admitted her decision to use poison on her unsuspecting victim, Kent felt back as if under a crushing blow.

Dobbins, too, was watching. Could it be, he thought, that Kent was in love with Miss Turner? She was—she must be at least ten years or so older than he, though, as Dobbins knew, that might not prove an insuperable barrier to such a condition of things.

Again, Miss Turner, though a fine-looking wholesome woman, was in no way a charmer or even especially attractive in her appearance. But unless for such reason, Dobbins couldn't divine why Kent was so desperately unnerved, even alarmed, the detective thought.

But as Eva Turner continued to talk, it began to be more clear that while she was confessing her own part in the affair she was also making ready for a general accusation against some one else.

"Did you see Mrs. Raynor with the pistol in her hand?" Dobbins asked. "This is a grave statement you're making, Miss Turner."

"No, I didn't see that—for the simple reason that I didn't flash the lights on quick enough for that."

"Tell me exactly what you saw when the lights did go on."

"I saw Mr. Finley picking up the pistol, and Mrs. Raynor fleeing out at the rear door."

Clears Complexion

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE is a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are contented, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that clear skin—that beauty.

Clear skin is the barometer of one's health. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clean blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1876 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Legion Teams and Workers Will Enjoy Banquet Tonight

All Captains and their teams and all workers for the American Legion Drive, which opens Tuesday, will be served dinner at the United Brethren church this evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Final instructions will be given for the opening of the drive. It is very important that all team members and workers be present. This is the last get-together meeting before the signal is given to go over the top. The presence of every worker will signify sharp. Final instructions will be given for the opening of the drive.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Cooperative marketing in the south has received an additional impetus from the record hung up by the Texas Farm Bureau Association this year. With a membership of 47,440, they announced that on the 182,318 bales of cotton marketed through their association, members increased their profits by an approximate average of $20 a bale over the returns they would have received if they had sold on their local markets.

C. E. Wansley, Buena Vista Pile farmer, after losing two plantings of cantaloupes by floods and bad weather last spring, utilized the ground for turnips with a cash return of over $100 to the acre to date. That Mr. Wansley is probably entitled to the halo of "champion turnip grower" of this county is substantiated by the fact that he delivered to a Portsmouth grocer last week a bushel of turnips that only required twenty-four to make the required amount.

According to the weekly market reports and crop summary issued by the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., this year's potato crop with 424,000,000 bushels in the United States, will exceed last year's crop by 21,000,000 bushels. With a production of 1,500,000,000 bushels of oats, the farmers this year produced one of the four largest crops on record. This was accompanied by one of the poorest crop crops ever grown in this country. Crop experts point to the fact that much of the weather that was detrimental to the corn crop was an aid to the great crop of oats.

Life Is Worth While if old folks are well

To be well, avoid chronic constipation. The laxative for old people is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

It would be of great benefit to elderly people if they realized that all their complaints are aggravated by constipation, as constipation is a form of congestion that affects the brain, nervous and muscular systems.

Headaches develop, aches and pains become worse, and rheumatism more painful. If you keep your intestines free from poisons you will find yourself happier and without those disorders usually associated with advancing age.

It is a mistake for old people to take strong cathartic pills, as they are seldom necessary and their repeated use requires larger and larger doses. Likewise the taking of "family cathartics" is bad, as many of these contain a coal-tar drug, the often causes skin eruptions, and if you have taken salt waters you know how dry and weak you felt afterwards.

The fact is elderly people need only a mild, simple cathartic. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is gentle in action and free from gripping, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. Use it awhile and you will soon be able to dispense with medicines of all kinds.

More elderly people use Syrup Pepsin than any other laxative, and Mrs. Wesley Davis, 819 26th St., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for many years. It has helped me to live longer and better. I have added many healthy years to my life. Get a bottle at a nearby drug store and try a spoonful the next time you feel constipated, have a headache, biliousness, flatulence, dyspepsia, night cramps, or if you have had proper elimination."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is not an experiment with old folks, as it has been on the market over 30 years and is today the largest selling laxative in the world, over 10 million bottles being sold annually. Buy it with the understanding that it will do as we state or your money will be promptly refunded.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl of fifteen and have been taking music lessons for over a year and I can play quite well. I memorize my pieces and I know other girls who have taken as many lessons as I have who can't play anything from memory. What is the cause of this? Dolly, do you think that I am doing well with my music, and do you think that I will ever become a great musician? A friend of mine who takes from the same teacher, that I do, says she never says a word to me, or tells me that I am the best scholar that she has. Dolly, don't you think she should compliment me when I have my lessons or when I play a piece unusually well? I never know how I am getting along and I get discouraged at times and feel like giving up. If she would only tell me what she tells others about me I could work and practice much harder on my music. I practice from one to two hours daily, except Sunday. Do you think that is enough? I want to be a good music teacher some day. Do you think that I will ever succeed? Dolly, give me your best advice as no one else seems to care whether I learn or not.

—DISCOURAGED GIRL.

It seems to me you have every reason to feel encouraged. It is a fine thing to memorize so easily. You must realize, however, that feeling and expression count even more than the ability to memorize. Besides you must have good technique, which is the result of much faithful practice. Perhaps you are your teacher's best pupil, but that is no reason to rest on your laurels. Be thankful that you are blessed with a talent, and resolve to make the best of it. If you work hard you can certainly become a very fine musician. For a school girl, you probably practice as much as you have time, but later, when

The Fashion's millinery section is beginning to take on the bright aspect of Spring, though it's only November. New arrivals in bengalines, satins, faille cloth and metal cloth give this illusion. There's cranberry and otruque (striking reddish shades), new blues, penny brown and silver. Some have touches of fur. The rich black satins are trimmed with monkey fur. I was surprised to note that they are priced at only $5.95.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creosote, a natural product that is pleasant to take. Creosote is a new medical discovery with twofold action: It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creosote contains in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the lungs, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creosote is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the removal of a cold. It is a natural product, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist for Creosote, Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

Mother Goose and the white crow stopped on top of a tower of the castle of the king of Yum Yum Land and peeped over the edge to see what was going on.

"There in the yard leaning up against a tree was Daddy Gander's magic dust-pan, but the old gentleman was nowhere to be seen."

"The very idea!" cried Mrs. Goose. "He could have brought the cook home and then left right away. He didn't need to go inside and make a visit. Nancy and Nick will think he's never coming back."

Sounds of "Yum, yum" were coming out of all the windows of the castle, and indeed out of all the houses in Yum Yum Land, because it was dinner time.

"I know what's happened," said the crow. "The king has invited Daddy Gander to star in dinner. He'll be along soon if we give him time to finish. But you wait here and I'll fly down and look through the dining-room window."

Pretty soon he came back.

"Yes, that's it, he said. 'The king is at one end of the table and Daddy Gander is at the other end. They're eating great stacks of bread and butter. I heard the king say that never, never had he eaten such bread in his life.'"

"Oh, that's the bread that Mrs. John sent to raise. The bread the cook found and baked into loaves and took home. If it wasn't for that bread, Daddy Gander wouldn't be here."

"He'll soon be through eating," said the crow. "and then we can all start back to the king's castle. It will only be a matter of a few minutes to get Jack's house on it, too, and then back to Pipkin Hill in a jiffy."

"Look! look!" whispered Mrs. Goose suddenly, pointing down to the yard of the palace where the magic dust-pan was leaning against the tree. "It's a peddler. He's picking it up."

The peddler was saying, "Well, well, well! If I didn't know that Daddy Gander had floated miles away with the floating powders I gave him, and that—No, no! This can't be the magic dust-pan! But it is a good one, so I'll put it in my pack and sell it for sixpence."

I'll just say right here that the peddler had started a lemonade peddler, but once a peddler always a peddler, and he had taken to the road again.

"Give me my broom. Quick!" cried Mrs. Goose.

And without another word she jumped on and rode right at the peddler and grabbed it out of his hand. "Brooms and dust-pans go together," she called as her faithful steed carried her to the tower once more.

No rubbing-no bluing when you use La France for the family wash

It may look like a mountainous wash, but you will be amazed and delighted at the ease with which it is done when you dissolve La France with the soap. No rubbing—no bluing. La France blues as it cleans.

You just soak or boil the clothes, then rinse and wring, and the dreaded task is over. Your clothes are whiter, sweeter, cleaner than ever before because La France works like magic on dirt. It loosens every clinging particle of soil so it can be easily rinsed away.

You don't have to change your method of washing to use La France. Wash as you always have—just add La France. Use it with any soap you like—bar, powder or flakes. And use it in the washing machine. Costs but 10 cents a package. Order from your grocer to-day.

For ironing, use Satina. Added to the hot starch, it keeps your iron from sticking, and gives a glossy, satiny finish. Is nicely perfumed. La France Manufacturing Company, Philadelphia.

La France blues as it cleans. Loosens every sticky, greasy particle of soil so it can be easily rinsed away. Use it with soap of any brand or kind.

Only 10 cents each wash-day for this wonderful product that does away with all the drudgery of washing. For boiler, tubs or washing machine.

Mrs. George M. Appel and Mrs. D. A. Berndt will entertain the Art Circle for luncheon Wednesday, November 12, at 1 o'clock, at the Ardell.

The Frances Ingdger Guild of All Saints church will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. Charles Hall of Second street as hostess.

Mrs. Fred Kalb and daughter Jean of Second Street are visiting relatives and friends in Ironton.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES - THE HIDDEN CITY

Jack watched the hole in the side of the cavern and shortly Flip came tearing through it, still pulling the little white cloth behind him. As the Flip had come out. Then a flock of little midgets appeared. When they saw Flip they started to cheer. And by this time they all agreed to take turns having a ride on the cart the dog was pulling.

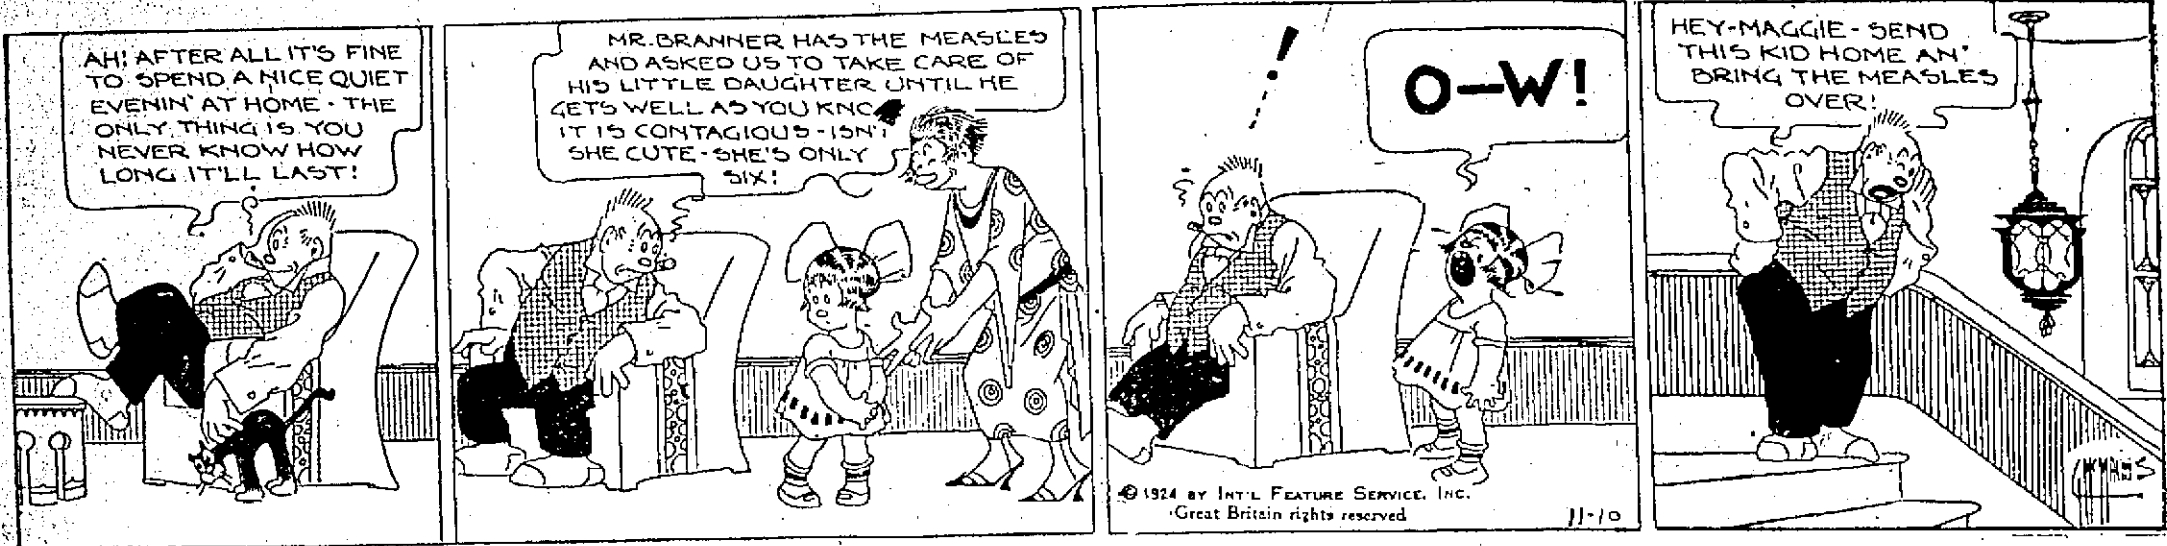

Just at that moment there was a great commotion in the entrance that Jack saw. Then a flock of little midgets appeared. When they saw Flip they started to cheer. And by this time they all agreed to take turns having a ride on the cart the dog was pulling.

Jack picked out the two midgets who had come into the cavern first. "You two were nearest to catching the dog," he explained, "so you get the first ride." On they hopped, and Flip took them for a short trip around the cavern while Jack stayed and chatted with the other midgets. (Continued.)

LOCAL LEGION WILL CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY WITH INSPIRING PARADE TUESDAY NIGHT AT 7:30

Will Mark Opening of New Home Drive

To fitly celebrate Armistice Day and the official opening of the campaign to be staged by James Dickey Post, No. 23, for a new home, the American Legion will hold a big parade Tuesday evening. The American Legion Auxiliary, and other patriotic organizations will be represented in the parade which is to move promptly at 7:30 o'clock from Market street.

Following will be the line of march: East on Third to Chillicothe, north on Chillicothe to Ninth, east on Ninth to Offshore, south on Offshore to Gallia and west on Gallia to Chillicothe street. Disbandment to take place at the Armistice.

The Legion new home drive is going over the top just like the boys did in the famous, never-to-be-forgotten Argonne Drive and Belleau Woods and the parade will furnish the necessary inspiration to make it an unequalled success.

In the American Legion drive to be launched for $30,000.00 for the purchase of a permanent home, there are numerous reasons why the local post needs a permanent home.

Since the organization came into existence, James Dickey Post has always had a temporary home, but never a permanent home. A permanent home has been the goal of the local post since it was organized in 1919. It has been compelled to move from one location to another on account of its ever increasing membership. With each move, the increase in the cost of maintaining a home has always manifested itself. This has curtailed the Post's activities in carrying out the American Legion program in the community, because the membership learned early, that, first of the many things on our program was the fact that the organization must be held intact. This has been worked out splendidly, and today the local organization of the American Legion can be pointed to with pride by the citizens of this community.

With a permanent home, free from the inconveniences of the local Post will be able to accomplish its part on the program for which the American Legion stands. The organization stands for the highest of ideals in community life. The American Legion should take the lead in many civic problems. This is being done by posts in thousands of other communities where the local post has a permanent home. The American Legion of Portsmouth, with a permanent home, will be able to carry out the same program in this community.

By eliminating the burden of maintaining a temporary home, James Dickey Post will be in a position to give its time and financial assistance in helping solve the problems that confront the community. Thousands of communities have responded, throughout our country, by helping the American Legion procure a permanent home, and this community will not be an exception.

This Is Canned Goods Week

(By Sydney Stranoke)

Folks in Portsmouth are going to be mighty busy if they observe all the "weeks" that are scheduled to take place between November 10 and 15. We have three on our date book now. There is Children's Book Week, Father and Son Week, and now Canned Goods Week. And on top of all this the Red Cross will start their annual Roll-Call for memberships, the American Legion opens a drive and the Community Chest Workers are still busy. Who said Portsmouth wasn't entitled?

Father and Son Week won't make much difference in our life as we are neither one nor the other. Children's Book Week may recall fairy tales and nursery rhymes of the long ago. But Canned Goods Week makes a direct appeal to the gastronomic centers, and suggests good things to eat on cold days so we think we'll subscribe heartily to that program.

Who remembers the days when canned goods were viewed with distrust and suspicion, except, of course, those canned in grandmother's own kitchen. And now we start a dinner with shrimp cocktails, out of cans, followed by canned chicken, creamed and served in timbels, surrounded with canned peas, canned sweet potatoes, canned spinach, then a salad course of canned fruit salad and for dessert canned pudding and coffee.

This week housewives will be treated to exhibitions of the latest products obtainable in canned form and many a Thanksgiving dinner will probably be planned from attractive window displays.

NOTICE--BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

All Scouts of Portsmouth, New Boston, Sciotoville, Lucasville, Nauvoo and Wheelersburg will assemble at local Scout headquarters, Tuesday, November 11 at 6:45 P. M. to take part in Armistice Day Parade.

Two machines driven by Clifford Downs of Rushdown and R. T. Smith, an automobile dealer in Huntington, were badly damaged Sunday when they collided on the Gallia Pike near Franklin Furnace. Neither driver was injured. Both cars had to be towed to the city for repairs.

Ball Players On Joy Ride In Paris; View of Giant White-Sox Trip

PARIS, Nov. 10.—One thousand Americans, fifty Japanese and 100 Frenchmen is L'Auto's analysis of the crowd which attended the game between the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox in the Colombus Stadium yesterday. The Giants won 1 to 0.

The paper says the teams seemed to come to Paris for a pleasure trip, rather than to fight for the outcome of their matches.

The writer regrets that somebody was not placed near the umpire to give a brief explanation of the game in French as it is "frightful to think that the Giants have been brought such a distance and yet the unintelligible left the impression of having grasped nothing of the game."

Cincinnati Symphony Here Next Thursday Night; Seats Go On Sale Wednesday

Reserved seats for the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra concert, which will be given Thursday night in the high school, will go on sale Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at Kay-Grady's on Galbraith street.

Particular interest in the concert was evinced by the large crowd which gathered at the public library yesterday afternoon to hear Prof. Elmer Egle explain the organization of a symphony concert and interpret the program which will be given Thursday night.

Local friends of Margaret B. Quinn who will be the soloist with the orchestra are looking forward to hearing her play with Itzhak's musicians.

Season tickets, which include admittance to the Symphony concert, and to the Mabel Garrison concert in January, in addition to four afternoon programs of varied interest, may be obtained from members of the Ladies' Musicale or at the music stores.

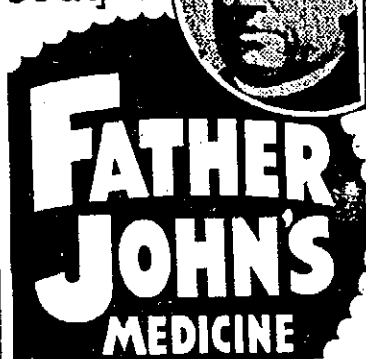

Special Session of Circuit Court Called at Vanceburg

VANCEBURG, Ky., Nov. 10.—The October term of Lewis Circuit Court closed here Saturday, Nov. 8, when Judge W. C. Halbert sentenced five prisoners to the state penitentiary. The criminal docket was very heavy. Judge Halbert has called an extra two weeks session of court to start December 1st, at which time W. D. Hopkins, charged with the murder of Fred Armstrong, will be tried together with several other criminal cases which have been set for the extra term. The Commonwealth was represented by Norman W. Bowman, the recently appointed Commonwealth Attorney for the 20th Judicial Dis.

Commonwealth Attorney Bowman has made a splendid record for himself at his first term of the Lewis County Circuit court, the Commonwealth not losing a single case. Sheriff Frank Lykins with deputies started from Vanceburg Sunday morning with five prisoners for the state penitentiary. The sheriff chartered the twelve passenger Cannon Ball bus of Harper Bros., which runs to Maysville, for the journey.

Two homicide cases for trial. Notices went out Monday requiring the petit jury to report for service Thursday morning when Mary Jackson, colored, charged with second degree murder in connection with the killing of her husband, will be brought to trial before Judge Thomas and a jury.

Jackson died from knife wounds alleged to have been inflicted by the accused when she claims she was attacked in her home by the decedent. Mrs. Jackson, who will be defended by Attorneys T. C. Beatty and George W. Shippard, is expected to set up a plea of self defense.

Matthew Gerald, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Henry Casteel, will be put on trial Friday morning. Casteel died August 16 from the effects of injuries inflicted when struck with a stone alleged to have been thrown by the accused during a row a couple of days before. The decedent and Gerald lived neighbors at Sherer Hollow, back of New Boston. He will be defended by Attorneys B. F. Kimble and T. C. Beatty.

Appellate Court Tuesday. Judges William H. Middleton, Edwin D. Sayre and Roscoe J. Mauck of the Court of Appeals will arrive in the city tonight to preside over the regular fall term of courts which will be convened at the Courthouse Tuesday morning.

The court will have a small docket here this term, the cases on the calendar for hearing including three error cases and one appeal.

To File Amendment Petition. Evidence in the divorce suit of Anna Bates against Thomas Bates was heard by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Monday and then continued to give her counsel, Attorney D. G. Miller opportunity to file an amendment petition on account of the plaintiff being a minor, 20 years old, which fact requires her to sue through her next friend.

Plaintiff said she married Bates in 1920, and she complained of cruelty, neglect and infidelity, declaring that Bates abused her during the time she lived with him and that he neglected her for the association of other women.

Lunacy Inquest. W. J. Thompson, aged 74, farmer, was brought before the Probate court Monday and Judge Gilliland arranged to conduct an inquest to determine his sanity. Mr. Thompson has shown symptoms of mental trouble for some time but only recently has he displayed any violence, relatives told the court.

The complaint was filed by his son, John D. Thompson of Radnor, who with Hanchard Scott and Walter V. Scott, brought the aged man before the court.

Scouts To Act as Honor Guard At The Legion Parade Tuesday Night

The boy scouts of the Scioto County Council will act as honor guard in the Armistice Day parade which is to be held on Tuesday evening starting at 7:30. This is one parade in which all scouts should take part. During the week was the Boy Scout organization had a great deal to do with the raising of a great deal of money and helped "our boys" "bring home the bacon." All scouts should feel a keen interest in this celebration and all troops should be represented. All Scouts will gather at the local headquarters at six forty five and from there they will go to Market street where the parade will start. The local executive desires to have a good representation of all the following troops, Portsmouth, New Boston, Sciotoville, Wheelersburg, Lucasville, Nauvoo. Boys who have uniforms are requested to wear them but every scout is expected to be present whether he has a uniform or not.

Ohio Election Clean Sweep For Klan, Says State Chief

YOUNGSTOWN, O., November 10. (By the United Press)—Last week's election in Ohio was a clean sweep for the Ku Klux Klan. Clyde W. Osborne, Grand Dragon of the state organization declared today.

Osborne claimed the Klan elected eighty per cent. of the county officers throughout the state and is in control in both houses of the state legislature. "On matters involving the Klan interest in the state legislature, the Klan will be able to present a united front," he said.

All county officers with Klan affiliations, the Grand Dragon said, will be held strictly accountable to the Klan for their conduct in office.

Lots 40x117, water, sewers, gas, electricity, cement sidewalks, cindered streets.

It is carefully restricted to single homes and placed on the market by Charles E. Wilson whose judgment of values has made many men wealthy and thousands of home owners have followed in the path of his real estate developments.

Portsmouth People Are Fairly Eating Up Wilson's Grand Mont Sub-Division

These lots can be bought on the basis of $500, 20 per cent down and 1 per cent monthly including interest at 6 per cent.

You can buy ten lots now for what you will pay for one in a few years.

EARNING POWER

The strength of men power and the energy of dynamo make money. Real estate has an earning power, men grow old and dynamos wear out, but real estate when well chosen lasts always and increases in value. Your real estate will be well selected if it is located within a permanent residential district, such as Grand Mont Subdivision. It is convenient and well located just out of Wheelersburg on Dogwood Ridge.

A home site for years to come and an investment promising early returns. Can be purchased at attractive terms.

Father of Noted Aviator Claims Planes Unsafe

CLEVELAND, O., November 10.—(By the United Press)—The Army Air Service should be equipped with safe planes, or abandoned altogether, F. E. Skel, father of Captain Burt E. Skel, killed when his plane crumpled in mid-air during the Pulitzer speed classic at Dayton last month, declared today in a letter to Congressman Theodore Burton and Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the Army Air Service. Skel charges that the death of his son was due to improper equipment. "I believe I have the right to speak," the elderly Skel's letter says, "being a native born American citizen, a taxpayer and a father who furnished two sons for the last war, one of them a sacrifice in the service until his life was needlessly sacrificed October 4. "If the death of Captain Skel, which has been a crushing blow to his parents can be the means of changing these conditions so that the Air Service is allocated money enough to buy the best equipment available, and this useless sacrifice of the finest men of our land can be stopped, we can to some extent be reconciled to the terrible loss we have met."

LIFE'S LITTLE SIDE-SHOW

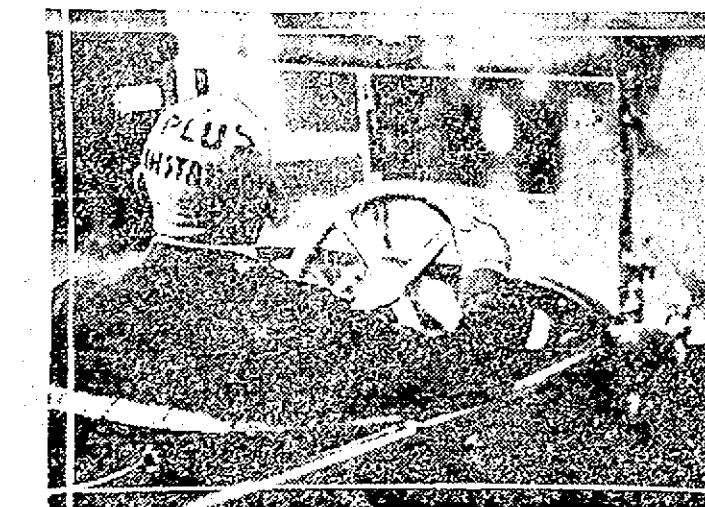

Right this way, ladies 'ngelinn! Here you see the great Whatisit. A chicken with a cat's head! It meows and like milk! Belongs to a man what lives in Philidelphi-a, P. A. And in the next cage you see—

Mussolini, who tamed the wild men of Italy, taming a wild lion. This here lion was given to Mussolini when it was a young cub, but since it has paled around with nobody else but Mussolini it has developed a fierce disposition and only its master dares enter its cage. Step along, and you see—

The black men of Nassau, Bahama, in a greased pole contest. The winner gets four shillings and a smoked ham, and the loser gets a ducking. Now we come to—

The Living Billboard. He drives a car through Vienna. Whatever it is he's advertising on his pate, it's not hair restorer. You need no brains for this, gentlemen. Nothing on the outside and nothing on the inside, but it's an easy life.

WILL FIRE SALUTE ON ARMISTICE DAY

As part of the general observance of Armistice Day tomorrow, Battery B, 134th Field Artillery, will fire a salute of 21 guns promptly at 11 o'clock. In many cities a two-minute silent period will be observed at that time in deference to the boys who fell in the World War.

Members of the Battery will be mounted in the parade tomorrow evening and Captain Theron Matthews asks that members of the troop consider this an official notice to report at the Armory at 6 p. m. in uniform, ready to join the line of march.

Service Co. To Use Concrete Between Tracks

Change in the plans of the Portsmouth Public Service company with regard to their share in the paving of Second street will result in marked improvement of that thoroughfare, according to H. G. Bonner, general manager of the company.

It had been the plan of the service company to pave their right-of-way between the tracks and for 18 inches outside the rails with brick, but difficulty in securing the type of brick needed has caused the change to concrete. This will give a more nearly uniform surface with the asphalt with which the city will resurface the remainder of the street.

This means a much greater expense to our company," Mr. Bonner said, "but the delay in getting the brick would have necessitated keeping the street torn up all winter and, rather than do that, we will pave with concrete."

Ashland Team

With five games to their credit and one defeat, P. H. S. will meet the young Ashland High School team Friday afternoon. The game will be played on Friday this week on account of the number of students and players who are going to Columbus Saturday to attend the State-Michigan game.

Arrested On Charge of Unauthorized Collection From Sunday School Class

YONKERS, N. Y., November 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Isaac Solomon, was arrested today on a charge of taking up an unauthorized collection yesterday from a Sunday school class at the Swedish Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. He was in court. The case was continued.

Arthur Koonik, superintendent of the Sunday school, said that Solomon, previously unknown to him, had requested permission to talk to the pupils in behalf of a charity and had followed his impassioned address by a collection.

He had more than $300 when arrested, although the collection at the Sunday school had amounted to only a few dollars.

Cue Stick Used In Fight; Arrest Made

Jim Klansman, manager of a pool room on Park avenue, New Boston, was taken into custody Monday morning on an assault charge preferred by William Maxey, a well-known young man, of New Boston, who claims Maxey struck him three times with a cue stick. Maxey claims he was hit on the side of the head, arm and hip. The foreigner was released on bond. He claims Maxey came into the pool room and started trouble, refusing to get out when he ordered him to leave.

Pneumonic Plague In Illinois

MARION, ILL., November 10.—(By the United Press)—Following the death of two women at Hurst, a mining village near here and the serious illness of 12 persons, the state board of health today ordered samples of blood of the victims sent to Springfield for tests to determine whether this section is in the grip of the pneumonic plague.

The two women died Friday within nine hours and the others became ill the next day.

"The cases were more severe than ordinary pneumonia," Dr. A. W. Spring said, "and the two women—Misses Julia Jones and Nancy Pinkston, declared.

Upon Dr. Spring's request, the Illinois Board of Health at Springfield, has launched an investigation of the "plague."

Dr. Spring has placed all cases suspected of being pneumonic plague, under surveillance.

Caution Is The Price of Good Health, So Says

Dr. Frederick Blankner, Who Specializes In Complicated, Chronic Diseases.

Room No. 7, Manhattan Hotel

Caution is one of the hardest lessons in life to learn and all who get on good terms with caution avoid many pitfalls in life. Good judgment is a twin brother to caution and when one is blessed with both he is indeed rich for it unlocks so many pleasant, and avoids so many unpleasant situations in life. When you have good health then you are blessed with the trinity that guarantees the richest treasures obtainable for with this working force nothing is impossible of human attainment. When a person loses his health, then he loses his foundation and sooner or later the entire structure that makes life worth living tumbles down and you become a negative quantity in all affairs of life. Oh! so many people in Soloto county today are deprived from the enjoyments of every day life just because of some sickness involving the stomach, liver, kidneys, heart, lungs and nerves. Neglect leads one into the quagmire of misery, and then you will wonder why it is that you should suffer. You know that you have more or less pain every day. Appetite, sleep, constipation, indigestion is more or less disturbed. Present, sleepless nights occasionally are in order, mental depression shuts out the beauties of daily routine, and yet you continue on in your neglect to husband your health. If you find that your physical manchinery is all out of order, and you are perplexed as to what to do, then come on your hat and make a Little Journey to room No. 7, Manhattan Hotel and meet Dr. Frederick Blankner in an honest, heart to heart talk. Think this over while you have the opportunity, and then come in to see the doctor. Office hrs. 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Phone 11-1111.

"Art" Triumphs; Theatrical Producer Is Exonerated

(BY FRANK GETTY)

(United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, November 10.—(By the United Press)—Art triumphed over puny today.

Three justices in special sessions court took long looks at the gorgeous curves and graceful posturings of several nearly nude young ladies—in poster form, that is—and then decided that Earl Carroll was all right and everyone who wanted to arrest him was all wrong.

The young ladies were all right, too, the judges averred. Not a curve fell beyond the straight and narrow line of what a New Yorker may not look at. Accordingly, Earl Carroll, who was arrested a month ago for displaying the posters in question, was discharged.

His trial had lasted but ten minutes. First on the stand was a burly detective, one John Meehan, who said he had seen the posters outside the theatre and had gone in to see the show. The girls were not nearly so frankly clad as the posters made out, Meehan said. He arrested Carroll.

After the detective had left the stand, Carroll's attorney moved for dismissal of the charge which was exhibiting "lewd and immoral pictures." He produced the pictures and his motion was granted.

Carroll spent four days in the Tombs after a city magistrate had held him for hearing before the higher court. He chose prison in preference to liberty on $300 bail, he said, as a means of protest against the arrest of "producers who are at the mercy of reformers who know nothing about art."

He was released from jail last Monday, however, on bail posted by his brother.

James Hubbard

Death Saturday night about 11:30 o'clock claimed James Hubbard, a former well known resident of this city who passed away at the County Home on West Side. He had been ill for a long time with complications but was able to be up and around until a couple of days ago.

James Hubbard born and reared in this city where he spent all his life was 66 years of age. He lived for many years on Gay street between Tenth and Eleventh streets. After working for sometime as bookkeeper at the old rolling mill on Front street he was employed as clerk in different grocery stores. For the past eight or ten years he had lived several months in the County Home. He went there for the last time in July 1923. His wife died some years ago. The only surviving close relative is a daughter who resides in the West.

Funeral services were held at the Home Monday afternoon with Rev. C. J. Thayer in charge. Burial was in the County Home Cemetery.

HAMMER USED IN FIGHT; ARRESTS MADE

Two young men who gave the names of Wayne Cooper and Wm. Lancaster, of South Portsmouth, came to grief Sunday when they started trouble in Harry McElhenny's grocery store in that village. McElhenny used a hammer after the men attempted to assault him. He says and Cooper and Lancaster were badly used up. Both suffered cuts on their heads and were covered with blood when taken before Squire Carley of Fullerton. Cooper was unable to give bond and was locked up in the Fullerton jail. Lancaster was released on bond. McElhenny says he requested the men to leave his place and they retaliated by calling him vile names. They were arrested by Constable Rowland and Deputy Sheriff Jerome Shepard.

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS FINED IN COURT

Activities of state prohibition officers and the police over the week-end were reflected by a heavy docket consisting principally of dry law offenders in Municipal court Monday and resulted in Judge Sprague handing out some still penalties.

Mrs. Theresa Jordan, 34, arrested in a raid at the St. John's hotel on Third street, near Market, Saturday noon for possession of liquor, was fined $600 and costs under her plea of guilty and she will be committed to the Marysville prison for women in event of nonpayment of the fine.

H. P. Wheeler, 31, arrested at the same place, admitted guilt of possession and he drew a fine of $200 and costs while William Smith, 31, charged with a similar offense in connection with the finding of three gallons of liquor in the Jordan's woman's room at the St. John's Hotel, was dismissed for lack of convincing evidence.

D. Brickey, J. W. Baize, and P. J. McGraw, charged with possession admitted guilt and sentence was deferred pending further investigation.

Nathan Jewett, 68, Union township farmer, was fined $200 and costs under his plea of guilty to possession while the complaint against him for possession of a still and two barrels of mash found near his home on Little Bear Creek by the officers, was continued for further investigation.

Earl Powers, former patrolman, pled guilty to possession and the court imposed a fine of $200 and costs. Powers admitted that he and a friend bought a half pint of moon Saturday night and smushed the vial as the officers approached. He denied having sold liquor.

THE RED CROSS HAS OPENED its annual drive for membership. Here is Miss Elizabeth Hill, debutante daughter of Admiral and Mrs. Reynolds Hill, of Washington, enrolling Captain Adolphus Andrews, U. S. N., skipper of the Mayflower, the Presidential yacht. Many society girls of the capital are giving their services to the cause.

Home Raided; Owner Arrested Later

Prohibition Officers Farmer, Hutchinson, Bayham and Lucas, and City Police Clowe and Held raided Howard Armstrong's home in the North End yesterday evening and confiscated about two gallons of moonshine and a few dozen empty half pint bottles, they aver. Armstrong was not at home when the raid was made. He was arrested later on in the evening and is charged with possessing liquor illegally.

Eyes Shot Out By Husband of "Soul Mate"

MACON, GA., November 10.—(By the United Press)—Walter Anderson, Montezuma, Ga., automobile dealer, was fighting for life in a local hospital today after figuring in a sensational gun battle in Port Valley, Ga., Sunday with James McKenzie, over the latter's estranged wife.

Mrs. McKenzie, who was present when her husband shot Anderson's eyes out with a saved-off shot gun kept a vigil at his bedside, saying he might recover.

McKenzie was held in the county jail at Perry, Ga., where he was rushed after the shooting. He told officers that he opened fire on Anderson when the latter reached for his gun. He had trailed the couple to an apartment house, police said, and waited for them to appear when he accosted them.

The shooting was said to have climaxed a long triangular affair with McKenzie seeking for weeks to effect a reconciliation with his wife. Police said he blamed Anderson for breaking up his home.

ELEVATOR OPERATOR MURDERED

MADISON, ILL., November 10.—(By the United Press)—Three men were held today as suspects in the murder of Miss Anna Pliskak, pretty 18-year-old St. Louis elevator operator, found strangled to death with her own cloth belt in a vacant lot in East Madison Sunday.

Residents near the death scene said they heard screams Saturday night and saw three men running from the vacant lot. The girl's head was cut with a sharp rock. The body indicated a struggle and attempted assault.

Louis Fehrman, Sr.
Louis Fehrman, Jr., foreman on the Morning Sun, was called to Jackson, Friday evening, by the critical illness of his father, Mr. Louis Fehrman, Sr., who passed away Sunday evening following a long illness. Mr. Fehrman had been bedfast since last February, with sciatica rheumatism and lumbago. He was one of the pioneer residents of Jackson and had many friends in this city who will be sorry to learn of his death. In addition to his faithful wife, he leaves to mourn his loss, two daughters and two sons, Louis Fehrman of this city, and the Misses Lottie and Anna Maud and George William Fehrman at home. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from the home in Jackson.

Dorothy Mae Price
Despite all that loving hands and medical skill could do, another sweet young life was claimed Sunday morning when the Lord claimed for His own, Dorothy Mae Price, young daughter of E. P. and Bertha Price of Waller and Twenty-fourth streets. The child, eight years old, had been ill about three weeks with hardening of the liver.

Surviving in addition to the parents are three brothers, Edward John, and Albert and two sisters, Ida Louise and Mary Ruth. Dorothy Mae was born in this city and attended Lincoln street school, where she was in the third grade. She possessed a winning disposition that made close friends of everyone who knew her. She has a legion of young friends who join with the family in their hour of sorrow. The father is employed in the office of the Selby Shoe Company.

Funeral services will be held from Trinity church at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with Mr. Walter U. Smith in charge. Burial will be in Greenlawn.

James Hubbard

Death Saturday night about 11:30 o'clock claimed James Hubbard, a former well known resident of this city who passed away at the County Home on West Side. He had been ill for a long time with complications but was able to be up and around until a couple of days ago.

OBITUARY

Albert Riddle
Death about six o'clock Sunday morning claimed Albert Riddle, well known resident of South Portsmouth, the final summons coming at his home here. He had been ill four years with complications. Mr. Riddle worked for sometime as machinist in the Marion steam shovel works at Marion, O.

Albert Riddle was born in Greenup county, Ky., January 8, 1891 and spent most of his life in that county. He was 34 years, 10 months and

OHIO STATE, BADLY BATTERED, WILL MEET STRONG MICHIGAN ELEVEN NEXT SATURDAY

10 Linesmen Are Injured

COLUMBUS, Nov. 10.—Ohio State's football squad, badly battered, today bent its attention to the homecoming contest with Michigan, now only five days away. Coach Wiley found his squad nearly decimated by injuries with nine of his best backfield men and 10 of his linesmen injured in various degrees.

But in spite of the physical condition of the squad, hard labor was scheduled to be the order of the day. In fact, there was every indication that the backfield would be pushed to the limit all week to polish their offense and to bolster their defense for the big game with Michigan.

As was the case two years ago, the huge Ohio Stadium will be filled to overflowing for the approaching contest. With all of the $3,000 permanent seats sold, Ohio State athletic officials plan to erect an inclined platform at the open end of the stadium to accommodate 3,500 additional spectators and to sell standing room in the upper deck. These standing room tickets will not be placed on sale until Saturday morning. In order to enlarge the capacity of the stadium still further, an extra row of boxes will be built around the inside of the stadium which will take care of about 900 additional spectators. A small temporary bleachers seating 300 more has been erected on the broad concrete platform at the very top of the stadium over the dome of the main entrance. Indications now are that the attendance may reach 70,000 and even more.

Coach Wiley faced two major problems today: To bolster the varsity line and to reconstruct his backfield. The line, handicapped by injuries, looked much weaker Saturday against Indiana than the Ohio forward wall which stopped Chicago and Iowa some weeks ago.

The backfield, with quarterback Cameron injured, all three fullbacks on the hospital list and four of the halfbacks ailing, will need considerable attention during the week to be able to cope with the Wolverines on Saturday. The tone of the Buckeye camp was anything but unduly optimistic today.

Equal Suffrage on Golf Links

MIRIAM BURNS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., November 10.—Equal suffrage on the golf links as well as in the voting booth! That's the new demand by women. Heading the move for that kind of recognition by men, who in almost all clubs bar women from the links on holidays and Sundays, is Miriam Burns, Kansas City champion golfer, and student in Northwestern University, Chicago.

Last summer she played into the finals in the western championship in Chicago and lost to Edith Cummings. In the national championship she got revenge by defeating Miss Cummings, but neither was able to win the championship.

Miss Burns began playing at 14 and at 19 was one of the country's most promising feminine golfers.

"To improve my game, I like to play more with men," Miss Burns says. "But, being a mere woman, I am ruled from the courses much of the time when men play."

"I don't like golf regulations one bit. They are man-made rules and unfair to women—especially the woman who works or attends college classes. "Why should a woman, who is as busy other days as the men, be barred from the courses Saturday afternoons and Sundays?"

Dando and Blair Swap Punches Tonight

Tonight in Distel's hall, Nig Blair and Shifty Dando, local stars of the padded mitts, will meet in the square circle for the second time and much interest is centered in the outcome of the bout. Nig copped the honors in the first meeting after a stirring battle and Dando has high hopes of turning the tables this time out.

Both boys are in fine fettle for the go and the bout promises to be full of action from going to going. Matchmaker William S. Harris has arranged a classy card of preliminaries with Red Wise, Slabtown artist, and Kid Hickman of Sciotoville appearing in the semi-final. There is great rivalry between these two lads and this bout should be a thriller.

Speedy Ballinger of Bucktown and Jack Blackburn of Hartington will stage a six-round auto and the performers in the first two bouts will be Jack Crawford and Joey Hughes while Johnnie Lucas and Charlie Wells will mix it up. There are still plenty of good ticks on sale at the Smoke House.

Chicago-Illinois Tie Game a Big Surprise

CHICAGO, November 10.—Western Conference campus fans and experts still were agog today over the amazing upset of predictions brought about Saturday when the University of Chicago tied the University of Illinois, 21-21, and thereby blotted the escutcheon of the Illini had been through which the Illini had been perering at an uncontested claim for Big Ten and possibly national football honors.

A. A. Stagg, aged Chicago mentor, proclaimed the greatest of all defensive coaches, resorted to a battering-ram offensive rather than a complicated defense against the almost incomparable "Red" Grange and the other sterling Illinois backfield men. Using three powerful fullbacks, in turn, mixing their unstoppable dashes through the line with plunges by Harry Thomas, who is hiding for a place in the football hall of fame alongside that of his famous brother, all-American John, the Maroons swept down the field in short lunges. Only occasionally was there an end run or forward pass.

Offsetting the breath-taking smashes of Chicago, Grange was put to his best efforts to keep Illinois at the top of the heap in the conference scramble for honors. He was almost perfect in his work, running the ends brilliantly and getting from five to eight yards nearly every time he had the ball, and hurling passes with precision. He scored all three Illini touchdowns and played a remarkable game as "safety" man. But slightly less startling was the defeat of Ohio State by Indiana. None had expected a Hoosier win after defeats by Chicago and Northwestern. In gaining the 12-7 victory, Indiana displayed a driving and versatile offensive.

The third upset was noted when Ames, of the Missouri Valley conference, held Minnesota, of the Big Ten, to a 7-7 tie. Iowa won a 7-to-0 victory over Butler.

Tanks Smother Smoke House Team, 44 to 0

The Ironton Tanks defeated the Portsmouth Smoke House team yesterday afternoon at Beechwood park, Ironton, before a crowd of 8,000 by a score of 44-0. During the first quarter it looked as if the local boys would put up a real fight against the Ironton team, but after the first touchdown made by the Iron City crew the Smoke House aggregation weakened and the Tanks ran wild.

The Portsmouth players showed a woeful lack of stamina and practice. They started out well and it looked like a real football game for about ten minutes. The Tanks as usual played well and the team that stops them will certainly have to play real football all the way.

The lineup:
Smoke House: LB Wilson, Zelt, Snoots, LG, Grose, McLaughlin, Englebrecht, Pryor, RG, Wardman, Shope, RT, Pope, Dol, RB, Growdy, Solomon, QB, Davies, DeVoss, LH, Kutzthal, Lucas, RH, Snowday, E. Clark, FB, Poole.

Just Sport

Harry Greb seldom trains seriously for a fight, yet he continues to win with regularity.

Billy Gibson is now managing Charley O'Connell, a lightweight originally developed by Jimmy Dunn.

Walter Hagen draws $30,000 a year from a golf club in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Tex Rickard says the only fights he gets a real kick out of are those between heavyweights.

Freddie Lamprecht, playing fullback for Tolane, is one of the best golfers in the middle west.

Sam Felton, who starred as a kicker at Harvard, is a golfer of no mean ability.

Manager Leo Fohl, of the Boston Red Sox believes he has picked up a prize in Outfielder Williams from Mobile.

The members of the Philadelphia Athletics think Sam Gray, a member of the A's hurling staff, is the best pitching recruit of 1924.

GROVES BETTER THAN BABE RUTH, SAYS JACK DUNN

BALTIMORE, November 10.—Jack Dunn, owner and manager of the Baltimore Orioles, who sold Babe Ruth and Jack Bentley to the majors, says "Lefty" Groves, recently purchased by Connie Mack, is a better pitcher than either of the two.

When Ruth quit pitching, for the outfield, he was the best southpaw in the American league. Jack Bentley is rated one of the best left-handers in the Nationals at present. Both are proteges of Dunn.

Dunn figures that the addition of so great a pitcher as Groves to the Athletics will make Mack's club a real permanent contender. Groves cost Dunn $3,500. He sold him to Mack for a reported price of $100,000—a very fair profit.

If Groves is half as good as Dunn insists, Mack has purchased a second "Babe" Waddell.

PIGSKIN PRIMER

When one of the officials penalizes the team in possession of the ball for some infraction of the rules, what effect does it have on the down and the distance to be gained?

Regardless of the number of the down, if a foul is committed by the side that did not put the ball in play, the scrimmage after the penalty is inflicted shall be first down with 30 yards to gain.

If a foul is committed by the team not in possession of the ball, within the one-yard line and the penalty for same is five yards, how far the penalty enforced, since there is only one yard remaining between the spot where the ball was put in play and the goal line?

When the distance penalty is enforced would carry the ball across the goal line, one-half the remaining distance to the goal shall be given. The enforcement of this penalty cannot result in a score, no matter how small the remaining distance may be.

What is the penalty for roughing a player?

Loss of 15 yards from the spot of the foul is the penalty for roughing.

ONE IS CINCHED

Walter Camp has only one half-back position to worry him on his All-American for this year. "Red" Grange has already clinched the other.

Lost Grid Prestige
With the passing of "B" McMillin, "Red" Roberts and Coach Charley Moran, the Centre College football team lost much of its color and most of its grid prestige.

Grange Is Greatest Halfback

(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, November 10.—(By United Press)—Selection of an all-American football team has been made simpler for the experts by one position with the showing made by Red Grange, the star Illinois halfback in the Illinois-Michigan game.

Grange not only clinched a place on every selection by scoring five touchdowns in a major game, but he performed an unheard-of feat in scoring four touchdowns in the first period of a most important game.

"Grange, beyond all doubt, is one of the greatest players ever developed," Alonzo A. Stagg, coach of the University of Chicago, said in commenting on the game. "Considering that he went into that game a married man and that Michigan had a whole year to devise some way of stopping him, his performance was amazing."

It was pointed out that Grange did just as much under heavy pressure as Babe Ruth could do by hitting four home runs in a world's series game. Ruth never did that. In fact, the Babe's hitting in his world's series experience always has been very ordinary.

Knute Rockne, the Notre Dame coach, also is a great admirer of Grange.

Ironton Horses Are Racing at Cleveland

IRONTON, O., November 10.—George Addis returned Saturday from Cleveland, where the horses owned by Robert Brammer, P. M. Goard and himself, have been racing for the past four weeks. Messrs. Brammer, Addis and Goard purchased the Fred Hatfield string of horses and have been meeting with gratifying success in the racing game. Their horses will continue running at Cleveland until the meet closes, next week.

West Virginia, the stallion owned by the three, ran two races in the past week, the last one Friday, when he led a field composed of Topsy Todd, Altonna, Nettie Bengon, Sammy, Miss Mazalla and Princess Bell in the order named.

POOR OLD ARMY
Notre Dame has been playing the Army since 1913 and the best showing West Point ever made over the period was the scoreless tie of 1922.

SEVERAL CLUBS ANXIOUS TO TRADE FOR PITCHER SNOCKER

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—Urban Snocker, generally considered the smartest pitcher in the American League, is said to be on the market. Report has it that the St. Louis Browns would listen to any trade talk that would give that club anything like a fifty-fifty break.

Snocker, it will be remembered, did not sign with the Browns until just before the opening of the season. He had asked Judge Landis to declare him a free agent, because he had been heartily flamed for insisting on taking his on an eastern trip of the club. No doubt Snocker did not have his heart in his work last year because of this trouble. His own record would make it seem that way.

Snocker, it is said, would like to play for his old manager, Leo Fohl. No doubt George Sisler would listen to a trade that would give him Howard Ehmke. It is doubtful if he would be interested in any one else on the Red Sox club.

Several other American League clubs no doubt will try to outbid Boston if Snocker is placed on the market.

Notre Dame Doesn't Draw Line Anywhere in Football

By BILLY EVANS

Notre Dame doesn't draw the line anywhere in football.

For a number of years Coach Knute Rockne's proteges have played the hardest schedule among the major colleges.

There never is a breathing spell on any schedule compiled by Rockne, who seems to thrive on action. Many coaches arrange for a soft game or an off-day to an all-important game. Not Rockne. With him every game is important. Each Saturday clash, a battle.

Since Princeton, after two successive wall-plops, appears to have enough of Notre Dame, Rockne picks something tougher than his team. Next year Pennsylvania, boasting one of the greatest teams in the east, takes the place of Princeton on the Notre Dame schedule.

Too bad there isn't a football world series. Notre Dame, Illinois, California and Pennsylvania would certainly be eligible. Some attraction.

There is no doping football this year. Trying to pick the winners with any degree of certainty is courting ridicule.

Once upon a time, not so many years back, football tried to form a grid expert to slip up in his forecasts of the big games. Just to illustrate: Recently one of football's leading experts, a nationally known writer, who in his college days was a football star, essayed to pick the winners in 12 important games.

Said veteran expert guessed only five of the 12 games right, and in three of them the question of superiority was quite marked.

It is much safer in these days of open football merely to say that the teams are evenly matched and in one getting the weeks will win.

Recently a famous football star of other days said it was far more difficult for a team to gain ground after it reached the enemy's 20-yard line.

There doesn't seem to be any valid reason for such a condition, yet a close perusal of the big football games of the country bear it out. Naturally a fighting line stiffens when disaster threatens. Likewise many signal callers insist on trying to gain through the line, when the distance to the goal line is short.

Then there is the mental hazard that handicaps the team with the ball as it realizes it is do or die. It is rather surprising that more diversified strategy is not used when inside of the enemy's 20-yard line, rather than the old stereotyped line plays.

Perhaps it is the failure to mix up the plays, the use of a change of pace, that makes it a more difficult matter to advance the ball after getting inside the enemy's 20-yard zone.

Shortstops Are Needed By Five Clubs

NEW YORK, November 10.—A good shortstop is the crying need of a number of American League Clubs.

Since weakness at short is a serious fault, clubs so handicapped are certain to make every effort to strengthen before the opening of next season.

The Chicago White Sox are the worst off, with the Boston Red Sox a close second, since Dudley Lee is still an uncertainty.

The New York Yankees must find a successor to Everett Scott, who showed by his play last season that he is losing up badly.

Ty Cobb has a problem at Detroit since Timmer is troubled with a back ailment that seriously affects his play. Chick Galloway of the Philadelphia Athletics, a shining star two years ago, slumped badly in his all-round play last season.

Washington, with Peckinpaugh, Cleveland, with Joe Sewell, and St. Louis, with Gerber, are the only clubs well fortified at the important position.

Big Demand for Stocks On The Coast

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—There was urgent demand for many groups of stocks on the curb exchange today, and business generally showing a persistent upward trend. The market was characterized by the investment demand. Oil stocks held the most prominent position with Standard Oil issues being traded in unusually large scale with the greatest advances made in the blue-chip investment demand. Oil of California advanced 3 points and Southern Oil moved up 5 points. Standard Oil of New York both made gains of over a point, and Pacific Oil moved up 1 point.

100 Per Cent--- Christmas Advertising

If you could hold a telescope to the eyes of all the readers of the Times and direct their gaze to the Christmas goods that are on sale in your store---would you call that a master stroke of holiday advertising?

And if you could do that at a cost so low as not to be figured in proportion to the amount of sales that resulted---would you call that the high-water mark in holiday advertising value?

Well, you CAN get just that kind of Christmas advertising and what's more---you can get it at just that kind of price.

The Shop - O - Scope --- the name under which we are going to promote our "Christmas Gift Suggestions" columns in the Classified Section of the Times---was designed for exactly the type of advertiser who demands the maximum reader-attention and results from his holiday advertising.

We are going to direct the attention of all our readers to the Shop-O-Scope every single day from Thanksgiving to Christmas with illustrated publicity.

Phone for a Times Classified solicitor to call and explain rates, etc.

Courthouse News
Common Pleas Judge S. D. McLaughlin has set the time for holding court in Pike county for the year, 1925, as follows: January 5, May 1 and October 5.

A motion in the case of H. A. McKee vs. George Lett came up for hearing Friday. In this motion plaintiff asked that the money in dispute, some $30,000, be brought to this county and kept here pending the hearing of the suit. The motion was granted by Judge McLaughlin, who ordered that the money be placed in the First National Bank at Waverly. The hearing of this case upon its merits will not come up for hearing until a later date. The action in this case is for an accounting. The petition states that the plaintiff and defendant together made and audited for the Norton Iron Works of Ashland, Ky., and were successful in securing a return from the government to the Norton Iron Works of a large sum of money from their income tax of 1917, 1918, 1919 and 1920. Plaintiff claims that the fee was to have been split fifty-fifty and that of the first payment of the fee, some $22,000, he (the plaintiff) did not receive his proper share. Now it is alleged that a larger fee is due plaintiff and defendant jointly, and that the Norton Iron Works are refusing to pay the fee. This money will be transferred to Waverly pending the decision in this case. Defendant's attorney states that plaintiff has no cause for action in this case. Plaintiff is represented by Johnson & Jones, of fronton, and George D. Nye, of Waverly. Attorneys for Lett are Joseph H. Dyer and W. T. McClure.

In the case of Elizabeth E. Sprouse vs. James W. Sprouse, it being a suit for divorce, a request for temporary alimony for the plaintiff has been granted by the court. Attorney Howard Middleton represents the plaintiff.

Alma Robnett is the plaintiff and William Robnett the defendant in an action for divorce, alimony and custody of an infant child, the petition for which was recently filed in Common Pleas Court. Gross neglect and extreme cruelty are alleged by the plaintiff. Howard Middleton represents the plaintiff.

The Kentucky Joint Land Bank of Lexington, Ky., is the plaintiff in a suit filed against Arthur B. Cousa et al., defendants. In this cause a foreclosure on real estate in Public township is sought by the plaintiff, the amount claimed from defendants being $3,973, with interest at 6 per cent from July 1, 1924. Plaintiff is represented by Copeland & Nye.

S. F. Rose is the defendant in an action brought against him by The American Agricultural Chemical Company. This is an action for money.

REFORM

HIGH SCHOOL misses in Hackensack, N. J., have adopted resolutions banning short sleeves and dress shoes for school use, pledging themselves to use cosmetics in moderation and to simplicity of the coiffure, denouncing swearing, boisterousness and smoking.

The reforming instinct makes itself evident at an early age. Of course the resolutions of these high school girls were obtained through organized effort and a dictatorship by class leaders who in turn were doubtless influenced by faculty members.

Fashions of the day, cosmetics, dressy shoes and flapper mannerisms are too dear to the hearts of young girls to be banned voluntarily. If there had not been a sentiment in favor of this institution of school girlhood the institution would not have existed to become the subject of reform. The Hackensack high school is representative of the American high school and the high school student is representative of the American people.

The high school reformer succeeds in having his resolutions of reform adopted by the student body. The national reformer succeeds in having his laws of reform adopted by the representatives of the people. But there ends the success of both reformers. A resolution and law do not make the reform. When the resolution and law are obeyed and enforced then, and then only, is there a reformation and without the student body and the public the reformer can here do nothing.

Unless the girls of the Hackensack high school disapprove of short sleeves, cosmetics, smoking and the other things against which their resolutions are directed all of these things will prevail in the future as they have in the past in that New Jersey school—unless the prohibitory resolutions make them more prevalent than heretofore.

KILLED

THE census bureau at Washington reports 22,621 fatalities from highway accidents in 1923. This figure represents an increase of 3,418 over the 1922 fatalities.

Thoughtful heads will shake over these statistics and yet they are to be expected in view of the great number of street cars and railroads, the increasing number of automobiles and motor trucks, the ever-growing number of pedestrians, the greater congestion on highways everywhere and the general speeding-up of traffic.

To the automobile alone is charged 18,452 deaths in 1923. That is 20.4 persons for every 100,000 of population were killed in automobile accidents last year.

There are several lessons for both motorists and pedestrians in this high death rate of the public highways. The first and most urgent is greater care on the part of all users of the highways, whether motorist or pedestrian. There must be a general awakening to the rights of others and to the fact that the number of automobiles is increasing more rapidly than the widths of the highways. The second lesson is for those public officials who are responsible for the construction and maintenance of the highways. That the fatal motor accidents may not grow in numbers the counties and states must, whenever the money is available, construct better, broader and less hazardous roads.

That the public is exercising greater precaution on the motor roads, at street intersections and at railroad grade crossings is evident from the fact that although the fatalities increase in numbers, they do not increase as rapidly as the number of automobiles and pedestrians. On a basis of population and number of automobiles the highway fatalities are slowly diminishing.

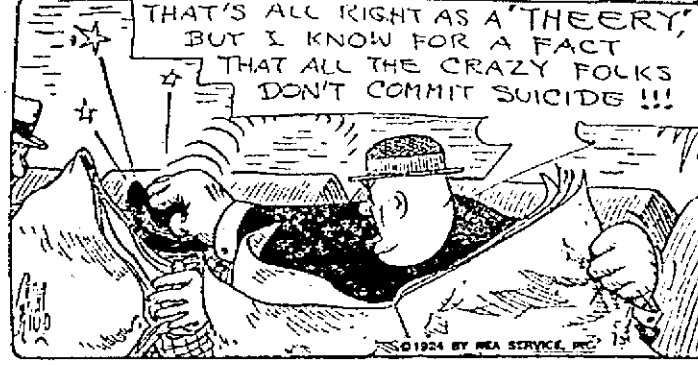

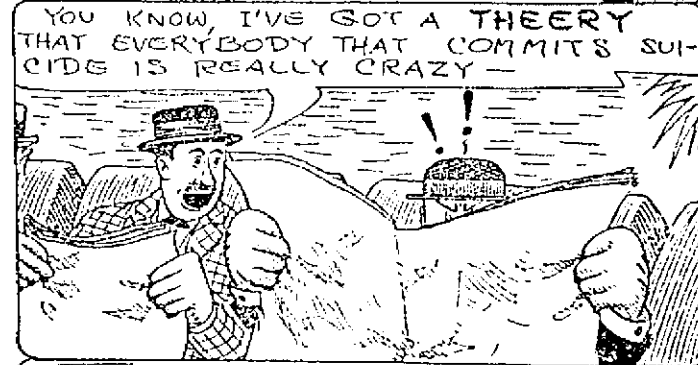

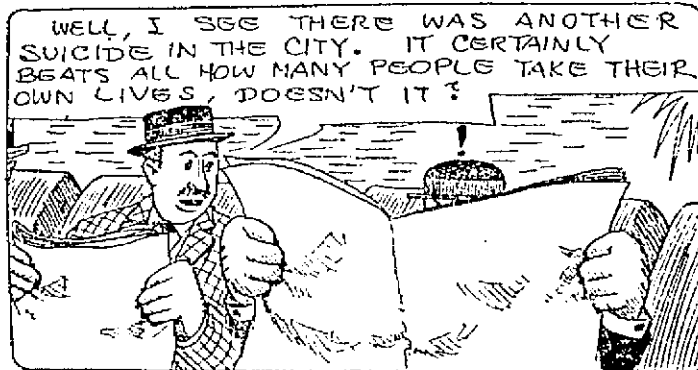

The world is now safe for democracy, but we still feel offended if the waiter doesn't show a proper deference.

A Frenchwoman has opened a school to teach women the art of pleasing men. It is understood the chief textbook will be Genesis.

Couples who celebrate golden wedding anniversaries were probably never interested in cross word problems.

NOVEMBER
By Ruth Raymond

Let us throw off every trouble and letting November with laughter and song.

Again we will roam by the brookside together.

Dreaming of youth that has vanished

so long.

Hand clasping hand with the day

still before us.

Odors of Autumn float on the air.

Marvels of Nature around us and o'er us.

This is November with never a care.

Nothing shall hinder and nothing shall hurry.

Now as we wander and dreaming

the while.

We have our youth and no burdens weary.

Summer in passing has left us her smile.

I am your lover my fondness still proving.

Gather bright asters a crown for your hair.

Many the years since first we were loving.

Pledging our troth in November so fair.

Not Uncommon

"Did you make any money on your last car?"

"No, but the garage man did."

A Hair Raising Offer

Young Man—"I will give you a dime if you will get me a lock of your sister's hair."

Young Brother—"Make it five and I will get you the whole thing. I know where hangs it."

Illustrated Word

A Scottish farmer, being elected to the school board, visited the village school and tested the intelligence of the class by the question:

"Now, boys, can any of you tell me what mairthing is?"

After a moment's silence a small boy in a back seat rose.

"It's what ye g'd me the other day for holding yer horse."

Can't Touch Him Under the Law

Father: "Tommy, stop pulling that cat's tail."

Tommy: "I'm only holding the tail;

the cat's pulling it."

No Babies Wanted

The small girl met the doctor near her home.

"You brought a little baby next door, didn't you?" she inquired.

"Yes," he answered; "shall I bring one to your house?"

No, thanks," came the prompt reply. "Why, we've scarcely time even to wash the dog."

Contradictory

Some curious things I have tracked.

They afford me much innocent fun.

How's this for a singular fact,

If colors are fast they don't run!

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—A page

from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Sometimes up and returned strength with the coldest bath ever I had. Came Roy L.

McCardell to breakfast and in a rollicking, rollicking humor.

This day I pondered on my blessings and cast my accounts and find myself out of debt, but with little put by. So to my tasks like the hardy yeoman I am.

In the afternoon through the town to meet a publisher about the doing of a tome, but the idea appealed to me not a whit and we fell into sharp words but parted fair friends.

To dinner on the floor below with Rodolph Valentino and his wife and he had a kind of meat

I never tasted before, but held back from asking what it was. Left early when a servant inquired if Valentino wished to be called at 5:30 in the morning. Good Lord!

thought I. He deserves a big salary. So to bed.

Slime Silverman, who publishes

Variety, tells of an old darkey who walked many miles to town to do a bit of shopping. He stopped in at the village grocery to refresh himself with food and purchased what he supposed to be crackers and butter. A new clerk by mistake substituted some sour axle grease for butter. The old darkey sat on a back step eating. Finally the clerk inquired: "Well, uncle, how are you enjoying your bite?"

"Fine, sah, very fine. These crackers is powerful good but the butter is a little ransom."

Hotels with shady pasts in the Roaring Forties have the custom of changing their names when police raid is made. While these hotels are respectable they are at least honest in their attitude toward unsuspecting patrons. If by chance a man or woman goes there believing them to be respectable places the clerks will turn them away with a statement:

all the rooms are engaged.

There is a hotel frequented by girls of the burlesque chorus a short distance from Times Square.

A printed sign in each room reads: "Please see that all cigarette stubs are extinguished. In the past year three beds have been set afire by guests going to sleep holding lighted cigarettes. Other guests were thereby endangered.

He is one of those chunky, sleek haired and immaculate proprietors who run chop houses in the Brad-way district. They always appear freshly shaved, debonnaire and
